life-cycle cost - Lease-purchase analyses should compare the net discounted present value of the life-cycle cost of leasing with the full costs of buying or constructing an identical asset. The full costs of buying include the asset's purchase price plus the net discounted present value of any relevant ancillary services connected with the purchase. (Guidance on the discount rate to use for lease-purchase analysis) (2) Economic Life. For purposes of lease-purchase analysis, the economic life of an asset is its remaining or productive lifetime. It begins when the asset is acquired and ends when	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-89)

the asset is retired from service. The economic life is frequently not the same as the useful life for tax purposes. (3) Purchase Price. The purchase price of the asset for purposes of lease-purchase analysis is its fair market value, defined as the price a willing buyer could reasonably expect to pay a willing seller in a competitive market to acquire the asset. (a) In the case of property that is already owned by the Federal Government or that has been donated or acquired by condemnation, an imputed purchase price should be estimated. (b) If public land is used for the site of the asset, the imputed market value of the land should be added to the purchase price. (c) The asset's estimated residual value, as of the end of the period of analysis, should be subtracted from its purchase price. (4) Taxes. In analyzing the cost of a lease, the normal payment of taxes on the lessor's income from the lease should not be subtracted from the lease costs since the normal payment of taxes will also be reflected in the purchase cost. The cost to the Treasury of special tax benefits, if any, associated with the lease should be added to the cost of the lease. Examples of such tax benefits might include highly accelerated depreciation allowances or tax-free financing. (5) Ancillary Services. If the terms of the lease include ancillary services provided by the lessor, the present value of the cost of obtaining these services separately should be added to the purchase price. Such costs may be excluded if they are estimated to be the same for both lease and purchase alternatives or too small to affect the comparison. Examples of ancillary services include: (a) All costs associated with acquiring the property and preparing it for use, including construction, installation, site, design, and management costs. (b) Repair and improvement costs (if included in lease payments). (c) Operation and maintenance costs (if included in lease payments). (d) Imputed property taxes (excluding foreign property taxes on overseas acquisitions except where actually paid). The imputed taxes approximate the costs of providing municipal services such as water, sewage, and police and fire protection. (e) Imputed insurance premiums. (6) Estimating Imputed Costs. Certain costs associated with the Federal purchase of an asset may not involve a direct monetary payment. Some of these imputed costs may be estimated as follows. (a) Purchase Price. An imputed purchase price for an asset that is already owned by the Federal Government or which has been acquired by donation or condemnation should be based on the fair market value of similar properties that have been traded on commercial markets in the same or similar localities. The same method should be followed in estimating the imputed value of any Federal land used as a site for the asset. (b) Property Taxes. Imputed property taxes may be estimated in two ways. (i) Determine the property tax rate and assessed (taxable) value for comparable property in the intended locality. If there is no basis on which to estimate future changes in tax rates or assessed values, the first-year tax rate and assessed value (inflation adjusted for each subsequent year) can be applied to all years. Multiply the assessed value by the tax rate to determine the annual imputation for property taxes. (ii) As an alternative to step (i) above, obtain an estimate of the current local effective property tax rate from the Building Owners and Managers Association's Regional Exchange Reports. Multiply the fair market value of the government-owned property (inflation adjusted for each year) by the effective tax rate. (c) Insurance Premiums. Determine local estimates of standard commercial coverage for similar property from the Building Owners and Managers Association's Regional Exchange Reports.

onshore facility - any facility (including, but not limited to, motor vehicles and rolling stock) of any kind located in, on, or under, any land or nonnavigable waters within the United States.	(SOURCE - DOE, US Code 42, §9601.)
on-station time - The time an aircraft can remain on station, which may be determined by endurance or orders.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-50) on-the-job training - method in which training is provided in a practical situation (worksite) through guided practice provides observation while learner is engaged in productive work. Also called OJT.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) on-the-job training - training provided by an employer to an individual who is employed by the employer.	(SOURCE - DHS, US Code 19, §2319)
open alcoholic beverage container - any bottle, can, or other receptacle— (A) that contains any amount of alcoholic beverage; and (B)(i) that is open or has a broken seal; or (ii) the contents of which are partially removed.	(SOURCE - DHS/ DOT, US Code 23, §154)
open burn pit - an area of land located in Afghanistan or Iraq that: (A) is designated by the Secretary of Defense to be used for disposing solid waste by burning in the outdoor air; and (B) does not contain a commercially manufactured incinerator or other equipment specifically designed and manufactured for the burning of solid waste.	(SOURCE - DVA, US Code 38, §527.)
open data - publicly available data that are made available consistent with relevant privacy, confidentiality, security, and other valid access, use, and dissemination restrictions, and are structured in a way that enables the data to be fully discoverable and usable by end users. Generally, open data are consistent with principles, explained in OMB guidance, of such data being public, accessible, machine-readable, described, reusable, complete, timely, and managed post-release.	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-130)
open dump - any facility or site where solid waste is disposed of which is not a sanitary landfill which meets the criteria promulgated and which is not a facility for disposal of hazardous waste.	(SOURCE - DOE, US Code 42, §6903.)
open enforcement action - enforcement action for which a formal, written notice has been issued but is not yet closed.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
open number - A channel sequence number (CSN) for which a transmission bearing a corresponding number has not been received.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH-2 H-114)
open ocean - Ocean limit defined as greater than 12 nautical miles from shore, as compared with high seas that are over 200 nautical miles from shore. See also contiguous zone.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-32)
open recommendation - An open recommendation is either resolved or unresolved.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 1 FAM 056.1)
open skies consultative commission - The implementing body for the Treaty on Open Skies. The OSCC meets in Vienna, Austria. Also called OSCC.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 1 FAM 441.3)
Open Skies Treaty - A 34-nation international treaty that establishes a regime of unarmed aerial observation flights over the entire territories of the states parties in order to gather information about military forces and activities as a means of promoting openness and transparency. The treaty entered into force on January 1, 2002.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 1 FAM 441.3)

open source - Software in which the source code is available to the general public for use and/ or modification from its original design (e.g., Android operating system and is usually tied to a GNU General Public License).	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 12 FAM 091)
open source information - unclassified information that has been published or broadcast in some manner to the general public, could lawfully be seen or heard by a casual observer, is made available at a meeting open to the public, or is obtained by visiting any place or attending any event that is open to the public.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
open source information report - raw report containing information that has been acquired as a result of collection from a publicly available source, including but not limited to Open Source and Social Media, prior to any interpretation or analysis.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
openness - the procedures or processes used are open to interested parties. Such parties are provided meaningful opportunities to participate in standards development on a non-discriminatory basis. The procedures or processes for participating in standards development and for developing the standard are transparent.	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-119)
OpenNet - A physical and logical Internet Protocol (IP)-based global network that links the Department's domestic sites and embassies, consulates, and annexes abroad at the Sensitive but Unclassified level.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 5 FAM 814)
OpenNet - OpenNet is a physical and logical Internet Protocol (IP)-based global network that links the Department of State's Local Area Networks (LANs) domestically and abroad. The physical aspect of the network uses DTS circuits for posts abroad, FTS-2001-provided circuits, leased lines, and dial-up public switch networks. This includes interconnected hubs, routers, bridges, switches, and cables. The logical aspect of the network uses Integrated Enterprise Management System (NMS) and TCP/ IP software, and other operational network applications. OpenNet is a Sensitive But Unclassified (SBU) network, which supports e-mail and data applications.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 1 FAM 271.4)
OpenNet plus - OpenNet with Internet accessibility.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH-2 H-114)
OpenNet Video and Data Collaboration - The Bureau of Information Resource Management's (IRM) program for using OpenNet for collaborative video conferencing. ONVDC is managed by IRMs Video Program Office (VPO). Also called ONVDC.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 5 FAM 593)
OpenNet+ - A physical and logical global network that uses Internet Protocol (IP) that links the Department of States domestic and Local Area Networks (LANs) abroad. The physical aspect of the network uses Diplomatic Telecommunications Service (DTS) provided X.25 circuits for posts abroad, FTS-2001 provided X.25 circuits, leased lines and dial-up public switch networks. This includes interconnected hubs, routers, bridges, switches, and cables. The logical aspect of the network uses Network Management System (NMS) and TCP/ IP software, and other operational network applications.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH-8 H-116)
open-source information - Information that any member of the public could lawfully obtain by request or observation as well as other unclassified information that has limited public distribution or access.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 2-0)
open-source intelligence - Relevant information derived from the systematic collection, processing, and analysis of publicly available information in response to known or anticipated intelligence requirements. Also called OSINT. See also intelligence.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 2-0)
open-source intelligence tools - tools for the systematic collection, processing, and analysis of publicly available information for known or anticipated intelligence requirements.	(SOURCE - DOD, US Code 10, §430b)

operate aircraft and operation of aircraft - using aircraft for the purposes of air navigation, including (A) the navigation of aircraft; and (B) causing or authorizing the operation of aircraft with or without the right of legal control of the aircraft.	(SOURCE - DOT, US Code 49, §40102.)
operating lease - A lease that does not meet any one of the six criteria that define a capital lease - (1) Transfer of ownership to the U.S. Government at the end of the lease term; (2) Option to purchase the leased property at a bargain price; (3) Lease term equal to 75 percent or more of the economic life of the leased property; (4) Present value at the beginning of the lease for the minimum lease payment is 90 percent or more of the fair value of the leased property; (5) The asset is for a special purpose of the U.S. Government and is built to unique specification for the U.S. Government as lessee; or (6) There is no private-sector market for the asset. Operating leases are treated as current operating expenses. Also called OL.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 15 FAM 12) operating offices - These offices are responsible for carrying out the Departments mission. They perform their functions in accordance with directives contained in the FAM.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 2 FAM 1114) operating requirements - requirements deriving from the operational environment of the system, the operational functions which must be performed to execute the mission, and the interoperability requirements necessary to complete each mission area described in the Concept of Operations.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operating signal (opsign) - A three-letter code (Q or Z signal) conveying orders, instructions, requests, reports, and information to facilitate communications via telegraphic or radio systems.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH-2 H-114) operating stocks - Fuel required to sustain daily operations and ensure fuel availability to support United States military forces worldwide. Also called OS.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 4-03) operating system - Software that controls the execution of computer programs and that provides any of the following services - scheduling, debugging, input/ output control, accounting, compilation, storage assignment, or data management.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH-2 H-114)
operating tempo - the rate at which units of the armed forces are involved in all military activities, including contingency operations, exercises, and training deployments.	(SOURCE - DOD, US Code 10, §991) operation - 1. A sequence of tactical actions with a common purpose or unifying theme. 2. A military action or the carrying out of a strategic, operational, tactical, service, training, or administrative military mission.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 1, JP 3-0)
operation - any or all undertakings appropriate for management, operation, services, maintenance, security (including the cost of security personnel), or financing in connection with a low-income housing project. The term also means the financing of tenant programs and services for families residing in low-income housing projects, particularly where there is maximum feasible participation of the tenants in the development and operation of such tenant programs and services.	(SOURCE - DOD/ DOJ, US Code 42, §1437a.)
operation - any plant, equipment, facility, position, employment opportunity, production.	(SOURCE - DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA, US Code 42, §5195c) operation and maintenance - Maintenance and repair of real property, operation of utilities, and provision of other services such as refuse collection and disposal, entomology, snow removal, and ice alleviation. Also called O&M.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-34) operation and maintenance cost - costs incurred for using and supporting the system or capability, such as personnel, maintenance (unit and depot), and training, energy, and disposition.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operation order - A directive issued by a commander to subordinate commanders for the purpose of	(SOURCE - DOD, effecting the coordinated execution of an operation. Also called OPORD.	DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0) operation plan - 1. Any plan for the conduct of military operations prepared in response to actual and potential contingencies. 2. A complete and detailed joint plan containing a full description of the concept of operations, all annexes applicable to the plan, and a time-phased force and deployment data. Also called OPLAN. See also operation order.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0) operational - asset or a part of an asset with a delivered component performing the mission.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational analysis - process of examining the ongoing performance of an operating asset investment and measuring that performance against an established set of cost, schedule, and performance goals.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational approach - A description of the broad actions the force must take to transform current conditions into those desired at end state.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0) operational area - An overarching term encompassing more descriptive terms (such as area of responsibility and joint operations area) for geographic areas in which military operations are conducted. Also called OA. See also amphibious objective area; area of operations; area of responsibility; joint operations area; joint special operations area; theater of operations; theater of war.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-0)

operational art - The cognitive approach by commanders and staffs - supported by their skill, knowledge, experience, creativity, and judgment - to develop strategies, campaigns, and operations to organize and employ military forces by integrating ends, ways, and means.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-0)
operational assessment - evaluation of operational effectiveness and operational suitability made by an independent operational test activity, with user support as required, on other than production systems.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational chain of command - One of the two branches of the chain of command described in Joint Publication 1, Doctrine for the Armed Forces of the United States, through which command is exercised from the President through the Secretary of Defense to the combatant commanders, to whom forces are assigned and allocated via the global force management process.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, DODI 8260.03)
operational characteristics - Those military characteristics that pertain primarily to the functions to be performed by equipment, either alone or in conjunction with other equipment; e.g., for electronic equipment, operational characteristics include such items as frequency coverage, channeling, type of modulation, and character of emission.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0) operational command structure - The organizational hierarchy through which operational authorities are exercised, as contrasted by the administrative command structure through which administrative leadership is exercised.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, DODI 8260.03)
operational context - environment, current and/ or future, in which the intended product is intended to be used includes the impact of modifying operations and consideration of the effect of not taking action.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational contract support - The process of planning for and obtaining supplies, services, and construction from commercial sources in support of joint operations. Also called OCS.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 4-10) operational contract support integration cell - A cell established to coordinate, and integrate operational contract support actions across all primary and special staffs for an operational area. Also called OCSIC.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 4-10)

operational control - The authority to perform those functions of command over subordinate forces involving organizing and employing commands and forces, assigning tasks, designating objectives, and giving authoritative direction necessary to accomplish the mission. Also called OPCON. See also combatant command; combatant command (command authority); tactical control.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 1)
operational control - the prevention of all unlawful entries into the United States, including entries by terrorists, other unlawful aliens, instruments of terrorism, narcotics, and other contraband.	(SOURCE - DHS, US Code 8, §1701.)
operational control authority - The naval commander responsible within a specified geographical area for the naval control of all merchant shipping under Allied naval control. Also called OCA.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-15)
operational controls - The controls that address security mechanisms implemented and executed primarily by people (as opposed to systems).	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH 11)
operational decontamination - Decontamination carried out by an individual and/ or a unit, restricted to specific parts of operationally essential equipment, materiel and/ or working areas, in order to minimize contact and transfer hazards and to sustain operations. See also decontamination; immediate decontamination; thorough decontamination.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-11)
operational design - The conception and construction of the framework that underpins a campaign or major operation plan and its subsequent execution. See also campaign; major operation.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0)
operational design element - A key consideration used in operational design.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0)
operational effectiveness - measure of the overall ability of a system to provide desired capability when used by representative personnel in the environment planned or expected for operational employment of the system considering organization, doctrine, tactics, supportability, survivability, vulnerability, and threat.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational energy - The energy required for training, moving, and sustaining military forces and weapons platforms for military operations.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 4-0)
operational energy - the energy required for training, moving, and sustaining military forces and weapons platforms for military operations. The term includes energy used by tactical power systems and generators and weapons platforms.	(SOURCE - DOD, US Code 10, §2924)
operational environment - A composite of the conditions, circumstances, and influences that affect the employment of capabilities and bear on the decisions of the commander. Also called OE.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-0) operational exposure guidance - The maximum amount of nuclear/ external ionizing radiation that the commander considers a unit may be permitted to receive while performing a particular mission or missions. Also called OEG. See also radiation exposure status.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-11)
operational files - (1) files of the National Clandestine Service which document the conduct of foreign intelligence or counterintelligence operations or intelligence or security liaison arrangements or information exchanges with foreign governments or their intelligence or security services; (2) files of the Directorate for Science and Technology which document the means by which foreign intelligence or counterintelligence is collected through scientific and technical systems; and (3) files of the Office of Personnel Security which document investigations conducted to determine the suitability of potential foreign intelligence or counterintelligence sources; except that files which are the sole repository of disseminated intelligence are not operational files.	(SOURCE - ODNI/ CIA/ DOD, US Code 50, §3141) operational intelligence - Intelligence that is required for planning and conducting campaigns and major operations to accomplish strategic objectives within theaters or operational areas. See also	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, intelligence; strategic intelligence; tactical intelligence.	JP 2-0)

operational level agreement - An Operational Level Agreement (OLA) is an agreement between the service provider and another part of IRM that supports and defines the service providers delivery of services to customers.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 5 FAM 153)
operational level of war - The level of war at which campaigns and major operations are planned, conducted, and sustained to achieve strategic objectives within theaters or other operational areas. See also strategic level of war; tactical level of war.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-0)
operational level - synchronization of multiple assets to accomplish unified objectives, usually at a department, agency, or Component level.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational limitation - An action required or prohibited by higher authority, such as a constraint or a restraint, and other restrictions that limit the commander's freedom of action, such as diplomatic agreements, rules of engagement, political and economic conditions in affected countries, and host nation issues. See also constraint; restraint.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0) operational necessity - A mission associated with war or peacetime operations in which the consequences of an action justify the risk of loss of aircraft and crew. See also mission.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-04) operational need - statement of a needed capability that is nonstandard and/ or unprogrammed answers the questions: 1)What is the operational issue? 2) What are the operational gaps? 3) What is the nature of the solution required? 4) Are there likely technology, organizational or process solutions? 5) Are there existing requirements documents?	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational needs statement - documentation of the need for a nonstandard and or unprogrammed capability to correct a deficiency or improve a capability that enhances mission accomplishment.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational objective value - sponsor/ user-defined performance value beyond the threshold that reflects the maximum desired yield for program performance.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational pause - A temporary halt in operations.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0)
operational preparation of the environment - The conduct of activities in likely or potential areas of operations to prepare and shape the operational environment. Also called OPE.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-05) operational purposes - (A) for the purposes of conducting military operations, including training, exercises, large scale demonstrations, and moving and sustaining military forces and military platforms; and (B) does not include research, development, testing, evaluation, fuel certification, or other demonstrations.	(SOURCE - DOD, US Code 10, §2922h)
operational range - a range that is under the jurisdiction, custody, or control of the Secretary of a military department and- (A) that is used for range activities, or (B) although not currently being used for range activities, that is still considered by the Secretary to be a range and has not been put to a new use that is incompatible with range activities.	(SOURCE - DOD, US Code 10, §101)
operational reach - The distance and duration across which a joint force can successfully employ military capabilities.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-0)
operational readiness - The capability of a unit/ formation, ship, weapon system, or equipment to perform the missions or functions for which it is organized or designed. Also called OR.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 1-0)

Terms and Definitions

operational readiness - the capability of an organization, an asset, a system, or equipment to perform the missions or functions for which it is organized or designed.	(SOURCE - DHS, US Code 6, §741) operational requirements - user established absolute performance minimums (thresholds) below which the mission cannot be successfully performed.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational requirements document - formal document that provides a bridge between the top level capability needs spelled out in the Mission Need Statement (MNS) and the detailed technical requirements found in the performance specifications that ultimately govern development of a system.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational reserve - An emergency reserve of men and/ or materiel established for the support of a specific operation.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 5-0)
operational risk - risk that has the potential to impede the successful execution of operations.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational scenario - sequence of events expected during operation of system products includes the environmental conditions and usage rates as well as expected stimuli (inputs) and responses (outputs).	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational suitability - degree to which a product or system can be placed and sustained satisfactorily in field use includes consideration being given to aspect such as; availability, compatibility, transportability, interoperability, reliability, wartime usage rates, maintainability, safety, human factors, habitability, manpower, logistics supportability, natural environmental effects and impacts, documentation, and training requirements.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational support airlift - Airlift movements of high-priority passengers and cargo with time, place, or mission-sensitive requirements. Also called OSA.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-17)
operational system - system (or system of systems) that is in-service by operators/ users in an operational (real-world) environment to perform DHS and Component missions and functions.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational test - field test performed under realistic conditions, overseen and evaluated by an activity independent from the agency developer and user organizations for the purposes of determining the effectiveness and suitability of that system or component when used by typical users in the expected operating environment of any system or key component of a system.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational test and evaluation - (A) the testing of a capability or asset and the subsystems of the capability or asset, under conditions similar to those in which the capability or asset and subsystems will actually be deployed, for the purpose of determining the effectiveness and suitability of the capability or asset and subsystems for use by typical Coast Guard users to conduct those missions for which the capability or asset and subsystems are intended to be used; and (B) the evaluation of the results of such testing.	(SOURCE - DHS/ USCG, US Code 14, §581)
operational test and evaluation - field test, performed under realistic conditions by actual users against realistic threats to determine the operational effectiveness and suitability of a system, and the corresponding evaluation of the data resulting from such test.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational test plan - detailed formulation of the program of action that translates an operational test concept and statistical and/ or analytical test design into concrete resources, procedures and responsibilities that are to be executed in achieving the objectives of the operational test program.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operational test readiness review - system engineering life cycle review conducted to ensure that the system under review has completed all identified entrance criteria and is ready to proceed into	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, formal operational test.	Terms)

operational test report - Operational Test Agent's (OTA's) report addressing critical issues observed during a phase of operational testing and their evaluation of operational effectiveness and operational suitability of the system.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational testing - A continuing process of evaluation that may be applied to either operational personnel or situations to determine their validity or reliability.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 4-02)
operational threshold value - absolute performance minimum established by the sponsor/ user, below which the mission cannot be successfully performed.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operational use - use of a system or a capability increment deliverable by users/ operators in the operational environment it is intended to operate in to perform missions and functions of DHS and its' Components, i.e., a system of record upon which operational decisions are made and operational actions taken or accomplished.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operationalized performance indicators - Clearly defined specific, measurable, attainable, realistic, and time-associated metrics used to track progress and determine the effectiveness and efficiency of IT initiatives.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 5 FAM 674)
operationally critical contractor - a contractor designated by the Secretary as a critical source of supply for airlift, sealift, intermodal transportation services, or logistical support that is essential to the mobilization, deployment, or sustainment of the Armed Forces in a contingency operation.	(SOURCE - DOD, US Code 10, §391)
Operations - Provides oversight of operations and financial management to employee associations (commissaries, recreational facilities, etc.) at overseas posts.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 4 FAH-3 H-113.4-2)
operations and maintenance program [asbestos] - work practices to maintain asbestos-containing material in good condition, ensure cleanup of asbestos fibers previously released, and prevent further release by minimizing and controlling disturbance or damage of asbestos-containing materials.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operations and support special access program - special access program established primarily to protect the planning for, execution of, and support to especially sensitive operations.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operations center - The facility or location on an installation, base, or facility used by the commander to command, control, and coordinate all operational activities. Also called OC. See also base defense operations center.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-07.2) operations coordination - actions and activities that enable senior strategic-level decision makers to determine appropriate courses of action and to provide oversight for complex operations to achieve unity of effort and effective outcomes.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) operations manager - An individual located in A/ LM/ AQM/ BD who is responsible for the day-to-day administration of the purchase card program. The operations manager works closely with the program manager in A/ LM/ AQM/ BD.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 4 FAM 455.2) operations period - The third period in the project cycle, preceded by the study period and the acquisition period. The operations period encompasses the deployment phase, the operations and maintenance (O&M) phase, and the deactivation phase.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAM, 5 FAM 613)
operations plan - A plan developed by and for each Federal department or agency describing detailed resource, personnel, and asset allocations necessary to support the concept of operations detailed in	(SOURCE - DHS/ FEMA, NRF, Glossary)

the Concept Plan. Also called OPLAN.
operations research - The analytical study of military problems undertaken to provide responsible commanders and staff agencies with a scientific basis for decision on action to improve military operations. Also called operational research; operations analysis.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-31)
operations research - the application of social science research methods, statistical analysis, and other appropriate scientific methods to judge, compare, and improve policies and program outcomes, from the earliest stages of defining and designing programs through their development and implementation, with the objective of the rapid dissemination of conclusions and concrete impact on programming.	(SOURCE - DOS, US Code 22, §7602) operations Section - (1) Incident Command - Responsible for all tactical incident operations and implementation of the Incident Action Plan. In the Incident Command System, it normally includes subordinate Branches, Divisions, and/ or Groups. (2) Joint Field Office - Coordinates operational support with on-scene incident management efforts. Branches, divisions, and groups may be added or deleted as required, depending on the nature of the incident. The Operations Section is also responsible for coordinating with other Federal facilities that may be established to support incident management activities.	(SOURCE - DHS/ FEMA, NRF, Glossary) operations security - A capability that identifies and controls critical information, indicators of friendly force actions attendant to military operations, and incorporates countermeasures to reduce the risk of an adversary exploiting vulnerabilities. Also called OPSEC. See also operations security indicators; operations security measures; operations security planning guidance; operations security vulnerability.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3) operations security - process of identifying critical information and analyzing friendly actions attendant to homeland security operations and other activities includes: 1) identifying those actions that can be observed by adversary intelligence systems, 2) determining indicators and vulnerabilities that adversary intelligence systems might obtain that could be interpreted or pieced together to derive critical information in time to be useful to adversaries and determine which of these represents an unacceptable risk, and 3) selecting and executing countermeasures that eliminate or deduce an unacceptable level the risks to friendly actions and operations or reduce it to an acceptable level.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operations security assessment - An evaluative process to determine the likelihood that critical information can be protected from the adversary's intelligence.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3)
operations security countermeasures - Methods and means to gain and maintain essential secrecy about critical information.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3)
operations security indicators - Friendly detectable actions and open-source information that can be interpreted or pieced together by an adversary to derive critical information.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3)
operations security planning guidance - Guidance that defines the critical information requiring protection from the adversary and outlines provisional measures to ensure secrecy.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3)
operations security survey - A collection effort by a team of subject matter experts to reproduce the intelligence image projected by a specific operation or function simulating hostile intelligence processes.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3)
operations security vulnerability - A condition in which friendly actions provide operations security indicators that may be obtained and accurately evaluated by an adversary in time to provide a basis for effective adversary decision making.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-13.3)

operations support element - An element that conducts all administrative, operations support, and services support functions within the counterintelligence and human intelligence staff element of an intelligence directorate. Also called OSE.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 2-01.2)
operations support element — An element that conducts all administrative, operations support, and services support functions within the counterintelligence and human intelligence staff element of an intelligence directorate. Also called OSE.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 2-01.2)
operations to restore order - Operations intended to halt violence and support, reinstate, or establish civil authorities so that indigenous police forces can effectively enforce the law and restore civil authority. See also operation; peace operations.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-07.3)
operations, maintenance, and replacement costs - all costs for the operation of a rural water supply project that are necessary for the safe, efficient, and continued functioning of the project to produce the benefits described in a feasibility study.	(SOURCE - DOI, US Code 43, §2401)
operations/ watch center - center responsible for operational level coordination, synchronization, and guidance of near term analysis, planning and execution.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
operator - the individual or entity authorized or designated as the operator of the National Motor Vehicle Title Information System, or the Attorney General, if there is no authorized or designated individual or entity.	(SOURCE - DOT, US Code 49, §30501.)

performance specification - specification stating the desired product operation or function but not specifying its construction or manufacture.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) performance standard - identified level of satisfactory performance applied to a specific indicator based on nationally recognized standards and protocols.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms) performance standards - Verifiable, measurable levels of service in terms of quantity, quality, timeliness, location, and work units. Performance standards are used in a performance-based PWS to (1) assess (i.e., inspect and accept) the work during a period of performance; (2) provide a common output-related basis for preparing private sector offers and public tenders; and (3) compare the offers and tenders to the PWS. The requiring activity's acceptable levels of service are normally stated in the PWS. The solicitation includes performance standards.	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-76) performance work statement - A description of what the contractor must accomplish in terms of results so that the U.S. Government can effectively monitor and evaluate the progress and final result of the contract. It is used when conducting performance-based service contracting. It replaces the Statement of Work previously used in service contracts. Also called PWS.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 14 FAH-2 H-124.1) performance work statement - A statement in the solicitation that identifies the technical, functional, and performance characteristics of the agency's requirements. The PWS is performance-based and describes the agency's needs (the "what"), not specific methods for meeting those needs (the "how"). The PWS identifies essential outcomes to be achieved, specifies the agency's required performance standards, and specifies the location, units, quality and timeliness of the work. Also called PWS.	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-76) performance work statement - A statement of work (SOW) tells the contractor what the U.S. Government wants done and how the U.S. Government wants it done. It dictates both the problem and the solution the contractor is to provide. A PWS is a performance-based SOW that tells the contractor what to do, but not how to do it. A PWS allows the contractor to provide the contractors own solution to a problem stated in the PWS rather than be forced to provide only the government-dictated solution to that problem. A PWS should include incentives that are tied to solving the stated problems in a high quality way (as defined in the PWS) and in a timely fashion. PWSs are preferred to regular SOWs. Also called PWS.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, FAH, 5 FAH-5 H-111.5) performance work statement - A statement of work for performance based acquisitions that describe the results in clear, specific, and objective terms with measurable outcomes. Also called PWS.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-12.1)

renewable biomass – (per Presidential Executive Order 13134, August 16, 1999) any organic matter that is available on a renewable or recurring basis (excluding old-growth timber), including dedicated energy crops and trees, agricultural food and feed crop residues, aquatic plants, animal wastes, wood and wood residues, paper and paper residues, and other vegetative waste materials.	(SOURCE - DOE, US Code 42, §7545.)

renewable biomass - each of the following: (i) Planted crops and crop residue harvested from agricultural land cleared or cultivated at any time prior to December 19, 2007, that is either actively managed or fallow, and nonforested. (ii) Planted trees and tree residue from actively managed tree plantations on non-federal land cleared at any time prior to December 19, 2007, including land belonging to an Indian tribe or an Indian individual, that is held in trust by the United States or subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States. (iii) Animal waste material and animal byproducts. (iv) Slash and pre-commercial thinnings that are from non-federal forestlands, including forestlands belonging to an Indian tribe or an Indian individual, that are held in trust by the United States or subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States, but not forests or forestlands that are ecological communities with a global or State ranking of critically imperiled, imperiled, or rare pursuant to a State Natural Heritage Program, old growth forest, or late successional forest. (v) Biomass obtained from the immediate vicinity of buildings and other areas regularly occupied by people, or of public infrastructure, at risk from wildfire. (vi) Algae. (vii) Separated yard waste or food waste, including recycled cooking and trap grease.	(SOURCE - DOE, US Code 42, §7545.)
renewable chemical - a monomer, polymer, plastic, formulated product, or chemical substance produced from renewable biomass.	(SOURCE - USDA, US Code 7, §8101.)
renewable energy - electricity generated from- (A) a renewable energy source; or (B) hydrogen, other than hydrogen produced from a fossil fuel, that is produced from a renewable energy source. (4) The term renewable energy source- - (A) wind; (B) ocean waves; (C) biomass; (D) solar; (E) landfill gas; (F) incremental hydropower; (G) livestock methane; or (H) geothermal energy.	(SOURCE - USDA, US Code 7, §918c.)
renewable energy - energy derived from- (A) a wind, solar, renewable biomass, ocean (including tidal, wave, current, and thermal), geothermal, or hydroelectric source; or (B) hydrogen derived from renewable biomass or water using a renewable energy source.	(SOURCE - USDA, US Code 7, §8101.)
renewable energy - energy produced by solar, wind, biomass, landfill gas, ocean (including tidal wave, current, and thermal), geothermal, or MSW, or new hydroelectric-generation capacity achieved through increased efficiency or the addition of new capacity at an existing hydroelectric facility excludes renewable energy in a regulated utility company's portfolio.	(SOURCE - DHS, DHS Lexicon, Terms)
renewable energy - energy produced by solar, wind, geothermal, biomass, landfill gas, ocean (including tidal, wave, current, and thermal), municipal solid waste, or new hydroelectric generation capacity achieved from increased efficiency or additions of new capacity at an existing hydroelectric project.	(SOURCE - GSA/ DOD, FAR, VOL I CH A) renewable energy source - an energy conversion system fueled from a solar, wind, hydropower, biomass, or geothermal source of energy.	(SOURCE - USDA, US Code 7, §940g.)
renewable energy source - energy generated from renewable sources, including the following: (A) Solar, including electricity. (B) Wind.(C) Biomass.(D) Landfill gas. (E) Ocean, including tidal, wave, current, and thermal.(F) Geothermal, including electricity and heat pumps.(G) Municipal solid waste.(H) New hydroelectric generation capacity achieved from increased efficiency or additions of new capacity at an existing hydroelectric project. For purposes of this subparagraph, hydroelectric generation capacity is new if it was placed in service on or after January 1, 1999. (I) Thermal energy generated by any of the preceding sources. unity of command - Principle of management stating that each individual involved in incident operations will be assigned to only one supervisor.	(SOURCE - DHS/ FEMA, NRF, Glossary)
unity of command — The operation of all forces under a single responsible commander who has the requisite authority to direct and employ those forces in pursuit of a common purpose.	(SOURCE - DOD, DOD Dictionary, JP 3-0)
unity of command - The vesting of a single commander with the requisite authority to direct and coordinate the actions of all forces employed toward a common objective. Unity of command obtains the unity of effort that is essential to the decisive application of all available combat power. Subordinates are then focused on attaining the overall objectives as communicated from a single commander. In turn, this fosters freedom of action, decentralized control, and initiative. Hierarchical organization principle that no subordinate should report to more than one boss.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, 3D Guide, Glossary) unity of effort - 1. Coordination and cooperation toward common objectives, even if the participants are not necessarily part of the same command or organization - the product of successful unified action. (DOD) A cooperative concept, which refers to coordination and communication among USG organizations toward the same common goals for success; in order to achieve unity of effort, it is not necessary for all organizations to be controlled under the same command structure, but it is necessary for each agency's efforts to be in harmony with the short- and long-term goals of the mission. Unity of effort is based on four principles: Common understanding of the situation. Common vision or goals for the R&S mission. Coordination of efforts to ensure continued coherency. Common measures of progress and ability to change course if necessary.	(SOURCE - DOS/ USAID, 3D Guide, Glossary)

value engineering - a systematic process of reviewing and analyzing the requirements, functions and elements of systems, project, equipment, facilities, services, and supplies for the purpose of achieving the essential functions at the lowest life-cycle cost consistent with required levels of performance, reliability, quality, or safety. The process is generally performed in a workshop environment by a multidisciplinary team of contractor and/ or in-house agency personnel (such as an IPT), which is facilitated by agency or contractor staff that is experienced, trained and/ or certified in leading VE teams through the following phases: information phase where the team gathers information to understand the project and constraints that may be impeding performance; functional analysis phase where the team identifies basic project functions and goals and identifies any performance shortcomings or mismatches between identified functions and customer needs for further study; creative phase where the team conducts brainstorming to generate new ideas and alternatives for improvement in a project, product, or process, with particular focus on high cost variables, speed of execution, quality and performance; evaluation phase where the team ranks ideas to find the best to meet the project value objectives; development and presentation phase where the team develops best ideas into viable alternatives with net life-cycle cost savings and implementation	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-131)

details and presents them to stakeholders; and implementation phase where the agency incorporates selected alternatives into the project. Also called VE.
value engineering - an analysis of the functions of a program, project, system, product, item of equipment, building, facility, service, or supply of an executive agency, performed by qualified agency or contractor personnel, directed at improving performance, reliability, quality, safety, and life-cycle costs.	(SOURCE - GSA/ DOD, FAR, VOL I CH A) value engineering change proposal - A proposal submitted by a contractor consistent with the VE clause(s) in the contract that, through a change in the contract, would lower the project's life-cycle cost to the Government without impairing essential functions, characteristics, or performance. The contract change requirement can be the addition of the VECP to the contract with attendant savings. VECPs are applicable to all contract types, including contracts with performance-based specifications. Also called VECP.	(SOURCE - White House, OMB, Circular A-131)

THEMATIC LISTS

1. Part II - Structure

The USG Glossary is separated into two parts (I - alphabetization of terms, and II - thematic lists.) The requirement is on the reader to analyze individual terms by viewing the original source placed in the document following each term and definition before comparing with similar terms or using in other documents. Part II's four thematic lists are categorized as follows to expose readers to terms and definitions related to foreign and domestic activities:

1) Domestic Support - All-Hazard Emergency Management which includes:

- law enforcement; fire and medical health services related to preparedness, protection, mitigation, response, recovery and continuation of essential public and private services

2) Domestic Support - Homeland Security which includes:

- terrorism, intelligence, cybersecurity, critical infrastructure protection, national all-hazard emergency planning and response to include civil-military coordination

3) Foreign Support - Humanitarian and Sustainable Development Assistance which includes

- foreign disaster response and humanitarian relief, youth, resilience and climate change as well as sectoral: health, agriculture, education, et al.

4) Foreign Support - Stabilization and Security Assistance which includes:

- fragility, defense and governance, counterterrorism, counter violent extremism, peace keeping operations, atrocity prevention, civil-military coordination and transition

Thematic lists are accompanied by two coordination mechanisms figures that show arranged interaction and potential cooperation between workforces:

- 1) Domestic Coordination - National Response Framework Emergency Support Functions, the following figure shows the domestic mandated interaction between USG workforces for all hazards emergency management and homeland security:

cogeneration facility - a facility which produces— (i) electric energy, and (ii) steam or forms of useful energy (such as heat) which are used for industrial, commercial, heating, or cooling purposes.	DOI
combatant command - a unified combatant command or a specified combatant command.	DOD combatant command — A unified or specified command with a broad continuing mission under a single commander established and so designated by the President, through the Secretary of Defense and with the advice and assistance of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Also called CCMD. See also specified combatant command; unified command.	DOD combatant command (command authority) — Nontransferable command authority, which cannot be delegated, of a combatant commander to perform those functions of command over assigned forces involving organizing and employing commands and forces; assigning tasks; designating objectives; and giving authoritative direction over all aspects of military operations, joint training, and logistics necessary to accomplish the missions assigned to the command. Also called COCOM. See also combatant command; combatant commander; operational control; tactical control.	DOD command activating switch - switch that is activated by the individual in which the individual controls the device at the moment of initiation.	DHS command center - facility from which a commander and his or her representatives direct operations and control forces organized to gather, process, analyze, display, and disseminate planning and operational data and perform other related tasks.	DHS command projectile switch - small arms bullet used to close the circuit by penetrating two metal plates provides standoff between firing point and contact point.	DHS command pull improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) initiated by an individual using a “command pull” action.	DHS command relationships — The interrelated responsibilities between commanders, as well as the operational authority exercised by commanders in the chain of command; defined further as combatant command (command authority), operational control, tactical control, or support. See also chain of command; combatant command (command authority); command; operational control; support; tactical control.	DOD command staff - An incident command component that consists of a Public Information Officer, Safety Officer, Liaison Officer, and other positions as required, who report directly to the Incident Commander.	DHS/ FEMA command wire improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) where the firing point and contact point are separate but joined together by a length of wire.	DHS commerce - trade, traffic, commerce, transportation, transmission, or communication among the several States, or between a State and any other place outside thereof, or between points in the same State which directly or indirectly affect interstate commerce.	DOI commercial chemical, biological, radiological, or nuclear improvised explosive device enhancement - Chemical, Biological, Radiological, or Nuclear (CBRN) materials available for purchase on the open market for commercial purposes that is deliberately added as a component to an improvised explosive device (IED)	DHS commercial recovery - (A) any activity engaged in at sea to recover any hard mineral resource at a substantial rate for the primary purpose of marketing or commercially using such resource to earn a net profit, whether or not such net profit is actually earned; (B) if such recovered hard mineral resource will be processed at sea, such processing; and (C) if the waste of such activity to recover any hard mineral resource, or of such	DOI processing at sea, will be disposed of at sea, such disposal.

commercial service - all vessels except those that are primarily used for combatant purposes. This is to make sure that vessels that are engaged in the transportation of goods or individuals are subject to the applicable maritime and environmental safety laws, even if they are sovereign controlled vessels.	DOT/ Maritime commodity - any material, article, supply, goods, or equipment used for the purposes of furnishing nonmilitary assistance.	DOS/ USAID commodity - wheat, cotton, rice, corn, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, grain, sorghums, mill feeds, butter, eggs, Solanum tuberosum (Irish potatoes), wool, wool tops, fats and, oils (including lard, tallow, cottonseed oil, peanut oil, soybean oil, and all other fats and oils), cottonseed meal, cottonseed, peanuts, soybeans, soybean meal, livestock, livestock products, and frozen concentrated orange juice, and all other goods and articles, except onions and motion picture box office receipts (or any index, measure, value, or data related to such receipts), and all services, rights, and interests (except motion picture box office receipts, or any index, measure, value or data related to such receipts) in which contracts for future delivery are presently or in the future dealt in.	USDA common operational picture — A single identical display of relevant information shared by more than one command that facilitates collaborative planning and assists all echelons to achieve situational awareness. Also called COP.	DOD communicable disease - a disease that is ruled as subject to quarantine, and requires isolation or restriction of movement by the patient for a specified period, as prescribed by the health authorities having jurisdiction.	DOS/ USAID compatible use - a wildlife-dependent recreational use or any other use of a refuge that, in the sound professional judgment of the Director, will not materially interfere with or detract from the fulfillment of the mission of the System or the purposes of the refuge.	DOI complex catastrophe — Any natural or man-made incident, including cyberspace attack, power grid failure, and terrorism, which results in cascading failures of multiple, interdependent, critical, life-sustaining infrastructure sectors and caused extraordinary levels of mass casualties, damage, or disruption severely affecting the population, environment, economy, public health, national morale, response efforts, and/ or government functions.	DOD concept of operations — A verbal or graphic statement that clearly and concisely expresses what the joint force commander intends to accomplish and how it will be done using available resources. Also called CONOPS.	DOD concept of operations - clear and concise statement or document that expresses an intended outcome or accomplishment and how it will be achieved using available resources includes program's mission, goals and objectives; may also include roles and responsibilities of the program's key stakeholders and the high-level processes to achieve program goals and objectives.	DHS confinement vessel - vessel commonly used to hold the main charge together may also be used to add fragmentation.	DHS consequence - effect of an event, incident, or occurrence.	DHS consequence assessment - product or process of identifying or evaluating the potential or actual effects of an event, incident, or occurrence.	DHS
conservation - the use of methods and procedures necessary or desirable to sustain healthy populations of wildlife, including all activities associated with scientific resources management such as research, census, monitoring of populations, acquisition, improvement and management of habitat, live trapping and	DOI

transplantation, wildlife damage management, and periodic or total protection of a species or population, as well as the taking of individuals within wildlife stock or population if permitted by applicable State and Federal law.
conservation - the use of methods and procedures necessary to bring a species of neotropical migratory bird to the point at which there are sufficient populations in the wild to ensure the long-term viability of the species, including— (A) protection and management of neotropical migratory bird populations; (B) maintenance, management, protection, and restoration of neotropical migratory bird habitat; (C) research and monitoring; (D) law enforcement; and (E) community outreach and education.	DOI
conservation - the use of methods and procedures necessary to preserve or sustain corals and associated species as diverse, viable, and self-perpetuating coral reef ecosystems, including all activities associated with resource management, such as assessment, conservation, protection, restoration, sustainable use, and management of habitat; mapping; habitat monitoring; assistance in the development of management strategies for marine protected areas and marine resources consistent with the National Marine Sanctuaries Act and the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (16 U.S.C. 1801 et seq.); law enforcement; conflict resolution initiatives; community outreach and education; and that promote safe and ecologically sound navigation.	DOI
conservation activities - conservation systems, practices, or management measures.	DOI conservation activities - i) structural measures, vegetative measures, and land management measures, including agriculture drainage management systems, as determined by the Secretary; and (ii) planning needed to address a priority resource concern.	DOI conservation stewardship plan - (A) identifies and inventories priority resource concerns; (B) establishes benchmark data and conservation objectives; (C) describes conservation activities to be implemented, managed, or improved; and (D) includes a schedule and evaluation plan for the planning, installation, and management of the new and existing conservation activities.	DOI contamination — 1. The deposit, absorption, or adsorption of radioactive material, or of biological or chemical agents on or by structures, areas, personnel, or objects. Also called fallout radiation. 2. Food and/ or water made unfit for consumption by humans or animals because of the presence of environmental chemicals, radioactive elements, bacteria or organisms, the byproduct of the growth of bacteria or organisms, the decomposing material or waste in the food or water.	DOD continental Shelf - (A) the seabed and subsoil of the submarine areas adjacent to the coast, but outside the area of the territorial sea, to a depth of 200 meters or, beyond that limit, to where the depth of the superjacent waters admits of the exploitation of the natural resources of such submarine area; and (B) the seabed and subsoil of similar submarine areas adjacent to the coast of islands.	DOI contingency/ incident personnel - category of essential personnel that are employees who are in positions identified for possible activation, as needed, depending on the emergency includes: a. Personnel designated in positions that ensure three-deep backup to mission critical or emergency personnel b. Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) c. Personnel in positions pre-identified as part of a Crisis Action Team, and other operational teams established in response to a specific incident or situation d. Federal Emergency Response Officials e. Reconstitution Personnel in positions identified as Reconstitution Staff f. Personnel in positions identified as Devolution Staff g. Persons in positions identified in an order of succession.	DHS

emergency personnel - category of essential personnel that are employees who are assigned to positions required to sustain a facility or function in the event of a localized situation, such as inclement weather or a dismissal or closure of DHS operations or services.	DHS emergency preparedness - all those activities and measures designed or undertaken to prepare for or minimize the effects of a hazard upon the civilian population, to deal with the immediate emergency conditions which would be created by the hazard, and to effectuate emergency repairs to, or the emergency restoration of, vital utilities and facilities destroyed or damaged by the hazard. Such term includes the following: (A) Measures to be undertaken in preparation for anticipated hazards (including the establishment of	DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA appropriate organizations, operational plans, and supporting agreements, the recruitment and training of personnel, the conduct of research, the procurement and stockpiling of necessary materials and supplies, the provision of suitable warning systems, the construction or preparation of shelters, shelter areas, and control centers, and, when appropriate, the non-military evacuation of the civilian population). (B) Measures to be undertaken during a hazard (including the enforcement of passive defense regulations prescribed by duly established military or civil authorities, the evacuation of personnel to shelter areas, the control of traffic and panic, and the control and use of lighting and civil communications). (C) Measures to be undertaken following a hazard (including activities for fire fighting, rescue, emergency medical, health and sanitation services, monitoring for specific dangers of special weapons, unexploded bomb reconnaissance, essential debris clearance, emergency welfare measures, and immediately essential emergency repair or restoration of damaged vital facilities).

emergency preparedness — Measures taken in advance of an emergency to reduce the loss of life and property and to protect a nation's institutions from all types of hazards through a comprehensive emergency management program of preparedness, mitigation, response, and recovery. Also called EP.	DOD emergency response providers - Federal, State, and local governmental and nongovernmental emergency public safety, fire, law enforcement, emergency response, emergency medical (including hospital emergency facilities), and related personnel, agencies, and authorities.	DHS emergency services sector - A system of preparedness, response, and recovery elements that form the nation's first line of defense for preventing and mitigating the risk from physical and cyber attacks, and manmade and natural disasters. The sector consists of emergency services facilities and associated systems, trained and tested personnel, detailed plans and procedures, redundant systems, and mutual-aid agreements that provide life safety and security services across the Nation via a first-responder community comprised of federal, state, local, tribal, territorial and private sector partners.	DHHS
Emergency Support Function Annexes - Present the missions, policies, structures, and responsibilities of Federal agencies for coordinating resource and programmatic support to States, tribes, and other Federal agencies or other jurisdictions and entities when activated to provide coordinated Federal support during an incident. Also called ESF Annexes.	DHS/ FEMA
Emergency Support Function Coordinator - The entity with management oversight for that particular ESF. The coordinator has ongoing responsibilities throughout the preparedness, response, and recovery phases of incident management. Also called ESF Coordinator.	DHS/ FEMA
Emergency Support Function Primary Agency - A Federal agency with significant authorities, roles, resources, or capabilities for a particular function within an ESF. A Federal agency designated as an ESF primary agency serves as a Federal executive agent under the Federal Coordinating Officer (or Federal Resource Coordinator for non-Stafford Act incidents) to accomplish the ESF mission. Also called ESP Primary Agency.	DHS/ FEMA emergency support functions - Used by the Federal Government and many State governments as the primary mechanism at the operational level to organize and provide assistance. ESFs align categories of resources and provide strategic objectives for their use. ESFs utilize standardized resource management concepts such as typing, inventorying, and tracking to facilitate the dispatch, deployment, and recovery of resources before, during, and after an incident. Also called ESFs.	DHS/ FEMA emergency support functions — A grouping of government and certain private-sector capabilities into an organizational structure to provide the support, resources, program implementation, and services that are most likely to be needed to save lives, protect property and the environment, restore essential services and critical infrastructure, and help victims and communities return to normal, when feasible, following domestic incidents. Also called ESFs.	DOD emergency work - clearance and removal of debris and wreckage and temporary restoration of essential public	DHHS/

facilities and services.	HUD/ EPA/ FEMA
endemic - The constant presence and/ or usual presence of a disease or condition found in a population within a geographic area. This may also be thought of as the baseline.	USAID epidemic - The increase of cases of a disease, often occurring suddenly, than what would be expected for that population in that area or at that time. Even one or two cases of certain diseases (such as cholera) can be considered an epidemic in other circumstances, an epidemic is defined by where the cases occur (e.g., West Nile virus in the United States) or when the cases occur (e.g., influenza in the summer).	USAID essential vessel - a vessel that is—(1)(A) security for a mortgage indebtedness to the United States Government; or (B) constructed under this subtitle or required by a contract under this subtitle to be operated on a certain essential foreign trade route; and (2) necessary in the interests of commerce and national defense to be maintained in condition for prompt use.	DOT/ Maritime estimated net explosives weight - reference to the estimated weight of the main charge derived from observations of the blast effects and crater characteristics.	DHS evacuation — 1. Removal of a patient by any of a variety of transport means from a theater of military operation, or between health services capabilities, for the purpose of preventing further illness or injury, providing additional care, or providing disposition of patients from the military health care system. 2. The clearance of personnel, animals, or materiel from a given locality. 3. The controlled process of collecting, classifying, and shipping unserviceable or abandoned materiel, United States or foreign, to appropriate reclamation, maintenance, technical intelligence, or disposal facilities. 4. The ordered or authorized departure of noncombatant evacuees from a specific area to another in the same or different countries by Department of State, Department of Defense, or appropriate military commander. See also evacuee; noncombatant evacuation operation.	DOD evacuation - An action taken that requires all persons in a Department facility to leave the facility and move to a safe area. Evacuations are generally ordered under emergency conditions and may occur with little or no warning. Evacuations may be local (e.g., evacuation of a building) or regional (e.g., evacuation of a city or an area).	DOS/ USAID evacuation - organized and supervised withdrawal, dispersal, or removal of civilians from hazardous or potentially hazardous areas, and their reception and care in designated safe areas.	DHS evacuation - Organized, phased, and supervised withdrawal, dispersal, or removal of civilians from dangerous or potentially dangerous areas, and their reception and care in safe areas.	DHS/ FEMA evacuee — A civilian removed from a place of residence by military direction for reasons of personal security or the requirements of the military situation. See also displaced person; refugee.	DOD evacuee - person subject to an organized and supervised withdrawal, dispersal, or removal from a hazardous or potentially hazardous area.	DHS event signature development/ device profiling - process of analyzing the tactical and technical identifiers of an improvised explosive device incident to support force protection, targeting, prosecution, and sourcing.	DHS exceptional resource - a resource of scientific, natural, historic, cultural, or recreational value that has been documented by a Federal, State, or local governmental authority, and for which there is a compelling need for conservation and protection under the jurisdiction of a Federal agency in order to maintain the resource for the benefit of the public.	DOI existing dam - any dam, the construction of which was completed or on 2 before July 22, 2005, and which does not require any construction or enlargement of impoundment structures (other than repairs or reconstruction) in connection with the installation of any small hydroelectric power project.	DOI exploding bridge wire initiator - initiator or system in which a very high-energy electrical impulse is passed through a bridge wire, literally exploding the bridge wire and releasing thermal and shock energy capable of initiating a relatively insensitive explosive in contact with the bridge wire.	DHS exploration - any activity, including logistic support, the purpose of which is the identification or evaluation of specific mineral resource deposits. The term includes exploratory drilling, dredging, and other surface or subsurface excavations required to determine the nature and size of mineral resource deposits and the feasibility of their development.	DOI

exploration - the examination and investigation of undeveloped land to determine the existence of subsurface nonrenewable resources.	DOI
exploration - the process of searching for minerals, including (1) geophysical surveys where magnetic, gravity, seismic, or other systems are used to detect or imply the presence of such minerals, and (2) any drilling, whether on or off known geological structures, including the drilling of a well in which a discovery of oil or natural gas in paying quantities is made and the drilling of any additional delineation well after such discovery which is needed to delineate any reservoir and to enable the lessee to determine whether to proceed with development and production.	DOI
exploration –(A) any at-sea observation and evaluation activity which has, as its objective, the establishment and documentation of— (i) the nature, shape, concentration, location, and tenor of a hard mineral resource; and (ii) the environmental, technical, and other appropriate factors which must be taken into account to achieve commercial recovery; and (B) the taking from the deep seabed of such quantities of any hard mineral resource as are necessary for the design, fabrication, and testing of equipment which is intended to be used in the commercial recovery and processing of such resource.	DOI explosion - sudden release of energy, caused by a nuclear, chemical, or physical process.	DHS explosive compounds - homogeneous substances whose molecules contain within themselves the oxygen, carbon, and hydrogen necessary for combustion.	DHS explosive train - succession of initiating and igniting elements arranged to cause a charge to function.	DHS explosive weapon - reactive substance that contains a great amount of potential energy that can produce an explosion if released suddenly usually accompanied by the production of light, heat, sound, and pressure.	DHS explosively formed projectile charge - specially designed main charge configuration incorporating an explosive charge with a machined or pressed concave metal plate which by the force of the charge reshapes the plate into a high temperature, high velocity metal slug capable of penetrating armored vehicles.	DHS explosives detection canine team - a canine and a canine handler that are trained to detect explosives, radiological materials, chemical, nuclear or biological weapons, or other threats as defined by the Secretary.	DHS extraordinary operation and maintenance work - major, nonrecurring maintenance to Reclamation-owned or operated facilities, or facility components, that is— (A) intended to ensure the continued safe, dependable, and reliable delivery of authorized project benefits; and (B) greater than 10 percent of the contractor's or the transferred works operating entity's annual operation and maintenance budget for the facility, or greater than $100,000.	DOI false improvised explosive device incident - improvised explosive device (IED) incident that is incorrectly identified though reported in good faith as an improvised explosive device, subsequently categorized as a	DHS false alarm after positive action.

Federal Coordinating Officer - The official appointed by the President to execute Stafford Act authorities, including the commitment of Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) resources and mission assignment of other Federal departments or agencies. In all cases, the FCO represents the FEMA Administrator in the field to discharge all FEMA responsibilities for the response and recovery efforts underway. For Stafford Act events, the FCO is the primary Federal representative with whom the State Coordinating Officer and other State, tribal, and local response officials interface to determine the most urgent needs and set objectives for an effective response in collaboration with the Unified Coordination Group. Also called FCO.	DHS/ FEMA federal emergency response official - Federal Executive Branch employee or contractor who has responsibilities as defined in the National Response Framework (NRF), National Infrastructure Protection Plan (NIPP), or National Continuity Policy Implementation Plan (NCPPI).	DHS
Federal land - (A) land controlled or administered by the Secretary of the Interior, except Indian land; or (B) National Forest System land controlled or administered by the Secretary of Agriculture.	DOI
Federal lands - lands the fee title to which is owned by the United States and administered by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Secretary of the Interior.	DOI
Federal Resource Coordinator - Official who may be designated by the Department of Homeland Security in non-Stafford Act situations when a Federal department or agency acting under its own authority has requested the assistance of the Secretary of Homeland Security to obtain support from other Federal departments and agencies. In these situations, the FRC coordinates support through interagency agreements and memorandums of understanding. The FRC is responsible for coordinating timely delivery of resources to the requesting agency. Also called FRC.	DHS/ FEMA
Federal trust species - migratory birds, threatened species, endangered species, interjurisdictional fish, marine mammals, and other species of concern.	DOI federally declared disaster - major disaster declared by the President that warrants supplemental federal aid when the state or local governments clearly cannot handle them on their own.	DHS find improvised explosive device incident - improvised explosive device (IED) related incident that involves the discovery and/ or recovery of an IED not yet emplaced or employed, IED components, and/ or IED paraphernalia.	DHS finishing action - tactical operational action taken in direct response to an incident.	DHS firefighter - employee, whose duties are primarily to perform work directly connected with the control and extinguishment of fires or the maintenance and use of firefighting apparatus and equipment included is an employee engaged in this activity who is transferred to a supervisory or administrative position; excluded is an employee whose primary duties are the performance of routine fire prevention inspection.	DHS firing switch - component that initiates the explosive train.	DHS first responder - a firefighter, law enforcement officer, paramedic, emergency medical technician, or other individual (including an employee of a legally organized and recognized volunteer organization, whether compensated or not), who, in the course of his or her professional duties, responds to fire, medical, hazardous material, or other similar emergencies.	DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA
first responder - a primary health care provider who provides immediate clinical care and stabilization in preparation for evacuation to the next health service support capability in the roles of care, and treats	DOD

Service members for common acute minor illnesses. See also essential care; evacuation.
first responder - designation for an individual who, in the course of their professional duties of responding to emergencies, and in the early stages of an incident, is responsible for the protection and preservation of life, property, evidence, the environment, and for meeting basic human needs may be a member of a Federal, State or local emergency public safety, emergency response, emergency medical, law enforcement, fire and rescue, military, or other recognized agency and authority, including a volunteer or private organization, as well as other skilled support personnel (such as equipment operators, administrators, security personnel, etc.) who provide immediate support services during, response and protection operations.	DHS first responder care - the health care capability that provides immediate clinical care and stabilization to the patient in preparation for evacuation to the next health service support capability in the continuum of care.	DOD flame fougasse improvised explosive device enhancement - mixture of petrol (gasoline) and oil in a 40/ 60 ratio (also known as Improvised Napalm) that is deliberately added as a component to an improvised explosive device (IED).	DHS flood - overflowing of a large amount of water beyond its normal confines, esp. over what is normally dry land may be a general or temporary condition, partial or complete inundation	DHS flood hazards - National Flood Insurance Program has prepared flood hazard data for approximately 18,000 communities. The primary information prepared for these communities is for the 1 percent annual chance (100-year) flood, and includes documentation of the boundaries and elevations of that flood.	White House floodplain - lowland and relatively flat areas adjoining inland and coastal waters that is naturally subject to recurring flooding at a minimum, areas subject to a 1 percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year.	DHS floodplain management - the operation of a community program of corrective and preventative measures for reducing flood damage.	DHS food security - access by all people at all times to sufficient food and nutrition for a healthy and productive life.	USDA force protection - preventive measures taken to mitigate hostile actions against Department of Defense personnel (to include family members), resources, facilities, and critical information. Also called FP. See also force; force protection condition; protection.	DOD force protection - preventive measures taken to mitigate hostile actions against federal personnel (to include family members), resources, facilities, and critical information.	DHS foreign vessel - any foreign flag or foreign operated vessel that is operated under the jurisdiction or authority of a government other than the United States.	DOT/ Maritime formation - any vein, seam, stratum, bed, or other naturally occurring deposit.	DOI found/ cleared improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) that has been identified by any method and removed from the battlefield before it can be used as intended.	DHS fragmentation improvised explosive device enhancement - shrapnel and small objects designed to be accelerated by explosive forces that is deliberately added as a component to an improvised explosive device (IED)	DHS
Free-flowing - existing or flowing in natural condition without impoundment, diversion, straightening, rip-rapping, or other modification of the waterway. The existence, however, of low dams, diversion works, and other minor structures at the time any river is proposed for inclusion in the national wild and scenic rivers	DOI system shall not automatically bar its consideration for such inclusion: Provided, That this shall not be construed to authorize, intend, or encourage future construction of such structures within components of the national wild and scenic rivers system.

frontline employee - an employee of a public transportation agency who is a transit vehicle driver or operator, dispatcher, maintenance and maintenance support employee, station attendant, customer service employee, security employee, or transit police, or any other employee who has direct contact with riders on a regular basis, and any other employee of a public transportation agency that the Secretary determines should receive security training.	DHS fuel improvised explosive device enhancement - incendiary material designed to enhance the burning and visual effect of the device that is deliberately added as a component to an improvised explosive device (IED).	DHS fuel oxidizer explosive mixture - explosive mixture of fuel and oxidizer that deflagrates (very rapid burning) or detonates creating a blast wave.	DHS full cost - an annual rate as determined by the Secretary that shall amortize the expenditures for construction properly allocable to irrigation facilities in service, including all operation and maintenance deficits funded, less payments, over such periods as may be required under Federal reclamation law or applicable contract provisions, with interest on both accruing from October 12, 1982, on costs outstanding at that date, or from the date incurred in the case of costs arising subsequent to October 12, 1982: Provided , That operation, maintenance, and replacement charges required under Federal reclamation law, including this subchapter, shall be collected in addition to the full cost charge.	DOI function - One of the five major activities in the Incident Command System - Command, Operations, Planning, Logistics, and Finance/ Administration. The term function is also used when describing the activity involved (e.g., the planning function). A sixth function, Intelligence/ Investigations, may be established, if required, to meet incident management needs.	DHS/ FEMA
General Staff - A group of incident management personnel organized according to function and reporting to the Incident Commander. The General Staff normally consists of the Operations Section Chief, Planning Section Chief, Logistics Section Chief, and Finance/ Administration Section Chief. An Intelligence/ Investigations Chief may be established, if required, to meet incident management needs.	DHS/ FEMA geochemical surveys - surveys on the ground for mineral deposits by the proper application of the principles and techniques of the science of chemistry as they relate to the search for and discovery of mineral deposits.	DOI geological surveys - surveys on the ground for mineral deposits by the proper application of the principles and techniques of the science of geology as they relate to the search for and discovery of mineral deposits.	DOI
geomagnetic storm - a temporary disturbance of the Earth's magnetic field resulting from solar activity.	DOI geophysical surveys - surveys on the ground for mineral deposits through the employment of generally recognized equipment and methods for measuring physical differences between rock types or discontinuities in geological formations.	DOI
geothermal resources - (A) all products of geothermal processes, embracing indigenous steam, hot water, and brines, (B) steam and other gases, hot water and hot brines, resulting from water, gas, or other fluids artificially introduced into geothermal formations, and (C) any byproduct derived from them.	DOI

group - Established to divide the incident management structure into functional areas of operation. Groups are composed of resources assembled to perform a special function not necessarily within a single geographic division. Groups, when activated, are located between Branches and resources in the Operations Section. See Division.	DHS/ FEMA habitat enhancement - the manipulation of the physical, chemical, or biological characteristics of a habitat to change a specific function or serial stage of the habitat.	DOI habitat establishment - the manipulation of physical, chemical, or biological characteristics of a project site to create and maintain habitat that did not previously exist on the project site, including construction of— (A) shallow water impoundments on non-hydric soils; and (B) side channel spawning and rearing habitat.	DOI habitat improvement - restoring, enhancing, or establishing physiographic, hydrological, or disturbance conditions necessary to establish or maintain native plant and animal communities, including periodic manipulations to maintain intended habitat conditions on completed project sites.	DOI habitat restoration - i) an activity conducted to return a project site, to the maximum extent practicable, to the ecological condition that existed prior to the loss or degradation, including— (I) removing tile drains or plugging drainage ditches in former or degraded wetland; (II) returning meanders and sustainable profiles to straightened streams; (III) burning grass communities heavily invaded by exotic species to reestablish native grass and plant communities; and (IV) planting plant communities that are native to the project site; (ii) if restoration of a project site to its original ecological condition is not practicable, an activity that repairs 1 or more of the original habitat functions and that involve the use of native vegetation, including— (I) the installation of a water control structure in a swale on land isolated from overbank flooding by a major levee to simulate natural hydrological processes; and (II) the placement of streambank or instream habitat diversity structures in streams that cannot be restored to original conditions or profile; and (iii) removal of a disturbing or degrading element to enable the native habitat to reestablish or become fully	DOI

functional.
habitat restoration - the manipulation of the physical, chemical, or biological characteristics of a site with the goal of returning the majority of natural functions to the lost or degraded native habitat.	DOI
hard mineral resource - any deposit or accretion on, or just below, the surface of the deep seabed of nodules which include one or more minerals, at least one of which contains manganese, nickel, cobalt, or copper.	DOI hazard - A condition with the potential to cause injury, illness, or death of personnel; damage to or loss of equipment or property; or mission degradation. See also injury; risk.	DOD hazard - an emergency or disaster resulting from- (A) a natural disaster; or(B) an accidental or man-caused event.	DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA hazard - Something that is potentially dangerous or harmful, often the root cause of an unwanted outcome.	DHS/ FEMA health care provider - any military or civilian health care professional who, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, is granted clinical practice privileges to provide health care services in a military medical or dental treatment facility or who is licensed or certified to perform health care services by a governmental board or agency or professional health care society or organization.	DHS/ USCG heat initiator - initiator that serves as an igniting element through the application of heat may include direct heat to a sensitive explosive.	DHS high explosive - chemical compound or mixture that is capable of supporting or sustaining a detonation wave.	DHS high potential historic sites - those historic sites related to the route, or sites in close proximity thereto, which provide opportunity to interpret the historic significance of the trail during the period of its major use. Criteria for consideration as high potential sites include historic significance, presence of visible historic remnants, scenic quality, and relative freedom from intrusion.	DOI high potential route segments - those segments of a trail which would afford high quality recreation experience in a portion of the route having greater than average scenic values or affording an opportunity to vicariously share the experience of the original users of a historic route.	DOI
hoax improvised explosive device incident - improvised explosive device (IED) incident involving a device fabricated to look like an improvised explosive device, and is intended to purposely simulate one in order to elicit a response.	DHS holder - any State or local governmental entity, individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity receiving or using a right-of-way.	DOI homemade explosive - non-standard explosive mixtures / compounds which have been formulated / synthesized from available ingredients most often utilized in the absence of commercial / military explosives.	DHS human consequence - effect of an incident, event, or occurrence that results in injury, illness, or loss of life.	DHS human environment - the physical, social, and economic components, conditions, and factors which interactively determine the state, condition, and quality of living conditions, employment, and health of those affected, directly or indirectly, by activities occurring on the outer Continental Shelf. information exchange between the National Hurricane Center in Miami and other National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration components, as well as Federal, State, tribal, and local government officials. Also called HLT.	FEMA hydrostatic switch - switch designed to complete a circuit or force a mechanical action with the change of fluid pressure.	DHS ignitor - device designed to produce a flame or a spark to initiate an explosive train.	DHS immediate response - Any form of immediate action taken in the United States and territories to save lives, prevent human suffering, or mitigate great property damage in response to a request for assistance from a civil authority, under imminently serious conditions when time does not permit approval from a higher authority.	DOD immediate response authority - A Federal military commander's, Department of Defense component head's, and/ or responsible Department of Defense civilian official's authority temporarily to employ resources under their control, subject to any supplemental direction provided by higher headquarters, and provide those resources to save lives, prevent human suffering, or mitigate great property damage in response to a request for assistance from a civil authority, under imminently serious conditions when time does not permit approval from a higher authority within the United States. Immediate response authority does not permit actions that would subject civilians to the use of military power that is regulatory, prescriptive, proscriptive, or compulsory.	DOD
imminent hazard - a situation which exists when the continued use of a pesticide during the time required for cancellation proceeding would be likely to result in unreasonable adverse effects on the environment or will involve unreasonable hazard to the survival of a species declared endangered or threatened by the Secretary pursuant to the Endangered Species Act of 1973.	USDA imminent hazard - the existence of a condition relating to hazardous material that presents a substantial likelihood that death, serious illness, severe personal injury, or a substantial endangerment to health, property, or the environment may occur before the reasonably foreseeable completion date of a formal proceeding begun to lessen the risk of that death, illness, injury, or endangerment. improvised claymore - improvised weapon, military or homemade, designed to explosively propel a fan shaped pattern of ball bearings or other fragmentation in an aimed direction.	DHS improvised explosive device - device placed or fabricated in an unconventional manner that incorporates in its design explosives or destructive, lethal, noxious, pyrotechnic, or incendiary chemicals generally consists of an explosive; power supply; switch or timer; and detonator or initiator; may incorporate military stores, but is normally devised from non-military components.	DHS improvised explosive device associated components - components that are: 1) part of an improvised explosive device or improvised weapon system; 2) the tools required to produce the components; or 3) precursors to	DHS

the manufacture of improvised explosive device components to include explosives.
improvised explosive device container	- item or vessel that commonly houses the whole improvised explosive device (IED) or principle components of an improvised explosive device.	DHS improvised explosive device enhancement	- optional additional component deliberately added as opposed to a secondary hazard that modifies the effects of the improvised explosive device.	DHS improvised explosive device explosion incident	- improvised explosive device (IED) incident that results in a partial or complete functioning of an improvised explosive device occurs when gaseous products are rapidly produced from a single substance (high explosives or low explosives with a fuel and oxidant).	DHS improvised explosive device incident atmospherics	- description of the demeanor of the civilian population at an IED event to include mood, absence or presence, changes in previously experienced interactions, etc.	DHS improvised explosive device incident geometry	- description of how the improvised explosive device (IED) system was emplaced, including the angle of the device, the distance to target, line of sight (if necessary), etc.	DHS improvised explosive device intended outcome	- immediate and direct goal or objective of an enemy's improvised explosive device (IED) attack objectives include anti-armor, anti-vehicle, anti-infrastructure, anti-personnel, anti-aircraft, tactics - techniques - procedures (TTP) identification, and criminal.	DHS improvised explosive device main charge	- bulk explosive component of an improvised explosive device (IED) capable of providing an explosion by its own energy when initiated.	DHS improvised explosive device post blast analysis	- process of systemic photographing and collecting forensic material involved in an improvised explosive device (IED) incident.	DHS improvised explosive device power source	- source of power – that either stores or releases electrical energy – for the initiation of an improvised explosive device (IED) or improvised weapon.	DHS improvised explosive device related incident	- occurrence that involves one or more of the following types of improvised explosive device-related actions/ activities: Improvised Explosive Device, Explosion, Find, Cache, False, Hoax.	DHS improvised explosive device sourcing	- process of determining the origination point (such as a production facility or person, a geographic location, or a specific country of origin) for IED components.	DHS improvised explosive device tactical characterization	- description of how an improvised explosive device (IED) incident was conducted or planned (tactical design) to be conducted provides context for how a specific device is used/ intended (purpose of device) to be used.	DHS improvised explosive device tactical design	- specific design of an improvised explosive device (IED) attack includes but not limited to: position of the IED, the type of IED, method of actuation, intended target, type of road segment used, concealment technique, use of secondary devices, the time of day, etc.	DHS improvised explosive device technical categorization	- description of an improvised explosive device (IED) using a hierarchical construct to identify its key components.	DHS improvised grenade	- improvised weapon, military or homemade, designed to explode when a restraint is removed (usually handheld, but can be projected).	DHS improvised mortar	- improvised weapon, military or homemade, designed to launch an explosive charge to the	DHS target.

improvised rocket - improvised weapon, military or homemade, designed to propel an explosive charge to the target.	DHS improvised weapons - weapons constructed in an improvised manner designed to destroy, incapacitate, harass or distract.	DHS in/ on improvised explosive device emplacement - improvised explosive device (IED) emplaced inside or directly on an item, vehicle, building, etc.	DHS incendiary - chemical mixtures which are capable of causing fire.	DHS incident - a crash, natural disaster, work zone activity, special event, or other emergency road user occurrence that adversely affects or impedes the normal flow of traffic.	DHS/ DOT incident - A security-related incident or a visa incident.	DOS/ USAID incident - An occurrence or event, natural or manmade, that requires a response to protect life or property. Incidents can, for example, include major disasters, emergencies, terrorist attacks, terrorist threats, civil unrest, wildland and urban fires, floods, hazardous materials spills, nuclear accidents, aircraft accidents, earthquakes, hurricanes, tornadoes, tropical storms, tsunamis, war-related disasters, public health and medical emergencies, and other occurrences requiring an emergency response. also include attachments that provide direction and important information for management of the incident during one or more operational periods. Also called IAP.
Incident Command - Entity responsible for overall management of the incident. Consists of the Incident Commander, either single or unified command, and any assigned supporting staff.	DHS/ FEMA
Incident Command Post - The field location where the primary functions are performed. The ICP may be co-located with the incident base or other incident facilities. Also called ICP.	DHS/ FEMA
Incident Command System - A standardized on-scene emergency management construct specifically designed to provide for the adoption of an integrated organizational structure that reflects the complexity and demands of single or multiple incidents, without being hindered by jurisdictional boundaries. ICS is a management system designed to enable effective incident management by integrating a combination of facilities, equipment, personnel, procedures, and communications operating within a common organizational structure, designed to aid in the management of resources during incidents. It is used for all kinds of emergencies and is applicable to small as well as large and complex incidents. ICS is used by various jurisdictions and functional agencies, both public and private, to organize field-level incident management operations. Also called ICS.	DHS/ FEMA
Incident Commander - The individual responsible for all incident activities, including the development of strategies and tactics and the ordering and the release of resources. The Incident Commander has overall authority and responsibility for conducting incident operations and is responsible for the management of all incident operations at the incident site.	DHS/ FEMA incident driven activity - specific action to stop, interdict, or otherwise respond to an incident.	DHS incident environmental condition - description of the ambient surrounding conditions to include weather conditions such as temperature, precipitation, fog, dust, etc.	DHS incident management - management and coordination of prevention, protection, and emergency management activities associated with a specific threat, or an actual occurrence includes, for example, major disasters, emergencies, terrorist attacks, specific threats of terrorist attacks, wildland and urban fires, floods, hazardous materials spills, nuclear accidents, aircraft accidents, earthquakes, hurricanes, tornadoes, tropical storms, war-related disasters, public health and medical emergencies, cyber attacks, and any other occurrences.	DHS
Incident management - Refers to how incidents are managed across all homeland security activities, including prevention, protection, and response and recovery.	DHS/ FEMA
Incident Management Assistance Team - An interagency national- or regional-based team composed of subject-matter experts and incident management professionals from multiple Federal departments and agencies. Also called IMAT.	DHS/ FEMA
Incident Management Team - An incident command organization made up of the Command and General Staff members and appropriate functional units of an Incident Command System organization. The level of training and experience of the IMT members, coupled with the identified formal response requirements and responsibilities of the IMT, are factors in determining the “type,” or level, of IMT. IMTs are generally grouped in five types. Types I and II are national teams, Type III are State or regional, Type IV are discipline- or large jurisdiction-specific, and Type V are ad hoc incident command organizations typically used by smaller jurisdictions. Also called IMT.	DHS/ FEMA incident Objectives - Statements of guidance and direction needed to select appropriate strategy(s) and the tactical direction of resources. Incident objectives are based on realistic expectations of what can be accomplished when all allocated resources have been effectively deployed. Incident objectives must be	DHS/ FEMA achievable and measurable, yet flexible enough to allow strategic and tactical alternatives.

incident record [IT service] - document that contains the details of an unplanned interruption to a service or reduction in the quality of service.	DHS
Indian land - land of Indian tribes, or Indian individuals, which are either held in trust by the United States or subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States.	DOI
Indian lands - lands of Indian tribes or Indian individuals which are either held in trust by the United States for the benefit of an Indian tribe or subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States.	DOI
Indian tribe - any Indian tribe, band, nation, or other organized group or community of Indians.	DOI
Indian tribe - any tribe, band, or other group of Indians subject to the jurisdiction of the United States and recognized as possessing powers of self-government.	DOI industrial development agency - any agency which is permitted to issue obligations the interest on which is excludable from gross income.	DOI
inholding - any right, title, or interest, held by a non-Federal entity, in or to a tract of land that lies within the boundary of a federally designated area.	DOI initial summary employee performance rating - summary performance rating assigned or proposed by the rating official, and documentation of accomplishments after evaluating the employee's performance against the established performance elements.	DHS intelligence operations - The variety of intelligence and counterintelligence tasks that are carried out by various intelligence organizations and activities within the intelligence process. See also analysis and production; collection; dissemination and integration; evaluation and feedback; planning and direction; processing and exploitation.	DOD intermediary country - a country that exports raw or worked ivory that does not originate in that country.	DOI international agreement - a comprehensive agreement concluded through negotiations at the Third United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea, relating to (among other matters) the exploration for and commercial recovery of hard mineral resources and the establishment of an international regime for the regulation thereof.	DOI intervention - immediate action taken to confront, resolve or reduce impact by way of hindrance or modification. Intervention is an effect, or force, action that modifies a situation or condition. An intervention is a process that modifies behavior or the outcome of an event.	DHS irrigation block - an area of arid or semiarid lands in a project in which, in the judgment of the Secretary, the irrigable lands should be reclaimed and put under irrigation at substantially the same time, and which is designated as an irrigation block by order of the Secretary.	DOI irrigation water - water made available for agricultural purposes from the operation of reclamation project facilities pursuant to a contract with the Secretary.	DOI
Joint Field Office - The primary Federal incident management field structure. The JFO is a temporary Federal facility that provides a central location for the coordination of Federal, State, tribal, and local governments and private-sector and nongovernmental organizations with primary responsibility for response and recovery. The JFO structure is organized, staffed, and managed in a manner consistent with National Incident Management System principles and is led by the Unified Coordination Group. Although the JFO uses an Incident Command System structure, the JFO does not manage on-scene operations. Instead, the	DHS/ FEMA

JFO focuses on providing support to on-scene efforts and conducting broader support operations that may extend beyond the incident site. Also called JFO.

landholding - total irrigable acreage of one or more tracts of land situated in one or more districts owned or operated under a lease which is served with irrigation water pursuant to a contract with the Secretary. In determining the extent of a landholding the Secretary shall add to any landholding held directly by a qualified or limited recipient that portion of any landholding held indirectly by such qualified or limited recipient which benefits that qualified or limited recipient in proportion to that landholding.	DOI lands beneath navigable waters - (1) all lands within the boundaries of each of the respective States which are covered by nontidal waters that were navigable under the laws of the United States at the time such State became a member of the Union, or acquired sovereignty over such lands and waters thereafter, up to the ordinary high water mark as heretofore or hereafter modified by accretion, erosion, and reliction; (2) all lands permanently or periodically covered by tidal waters up to but not above the line of mean high tide and seaward to a line three geographical miles distant from the coast line of each such State and to the boundary line of each such State where in any case such boundary as it existed at the time such State became a member of the Union, or as heretofore approved by Congress, extends seaward (or into the Gulf of Mexico) beyond three geographical miles, ¹ and (3) all filled in, made, or reclaimed lands which formerly were lands beneath navigable waters, as hereinabove defined. leased - subjected to a grant of primary possession entered into for a gainful purpose with a determinable fee	DOI remaining in the hands of the grantor. With respect to a lease that conveys rights of exploration and development, the exemptions listed in paragraph (1) shall continue with respect to that portion of the leased tract that is used solely for the purposes of exploration.

legitimate law enforcement purpose - function falling within an agency or law enforcement official's sphere of lawful enforcement authority in preventing, detecting, investigating, or prosecuting an offense or a potential offense, or assisting that agency or law enforcement official in such prevention, detection, investigation, or prosecution does not include personal or collateral purposes not related to the official function of the Law Enforcement Official.	DHS liaison officer - A member of the Command Staff responsible for coordinating with representatives from cooperating and assisting agencies or organizations.	DHS/ FEMA light bulb/ flash bulb initiator - device used as electric initiator that incorporates an improvised use of the bulb to initiate primary or low explosives.	DHS light sensitive trigger - proximity trigger that senses changes in the amount of light in the environment near the sensor and causes a circuit to be completed, firing the device.	DHS limited recipient - any legal entity established under State or Federal law benefiting more than twenty-five natural persons.	DOI liquid explosive - explosive material in a liquid state nitric acid esters (e.g. nitroglycerin, nitroglycol) and EDGN.	DHS load-serving entity - a distribution utility or an electric utility that has a service obligation.	DOI logistics section - (1) Incident Command - Section responsible for providing facilities, services, and material support for the incident. (2) Joint Field Office (JFO) - Section that coordinates logistics support to include control of and accountability for Federal supplies and equipment; resource ordering; delivery of equipment, supplies, and services to the JFO and other field locations; facility location, setup, space management, building services, and general facility operations; transportation coordination and fleet management services; information and technology systems services; administrative services such as mail management and reproduction; and customer assistance.	DHS/ FEMA low explosive - combustible materials which are characterized by deflagration (rapid burn) does not produce a shock wave and generally requiring confinement to explode.	DHS magnetic attachment improvised explosive device employment - improvised explosive device (IED) employment in which the device is attached to the target using magnets.	DHS magnetic contact - magnetically actuated switch and a magnet, typically used on doors and windows to detect opening by changing the position of the magnet.	DHS magnetic trigger - proximity trigger that senses magnetic alterations in the area around the sensor and causes a circuit to be completed, firing the device.	DHS major disaster - any natural catastrophe (including any hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, wind-driven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought), or, regardless of cause, any fire, flood, or explosion, in any part of the United States, which in the determination of the President causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant major disaster assistance under this chapter to supplement the efforts and available resources of States, local governments, and disaster relief organizations in alleviating the damage, loss, hardship, or suffering caused thereby. major disaster - Under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, any natural catastrophe (including any hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, wind-driven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought) or, regardless of cause, any fire, flood, or explosion in any part of the United States that, in the determination of the President, causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant major disaster assistance under the Stafford Act to supplement the efforts and available resources of States, local governments, and disaster relief organizations in alleviating the damage, loss, hardship, or suffering caused thereby.	DHS/ FEMA
major event - planned, non-emergency activity that draws national attention significant or designated non-emergency activity requiring additional security, such as inaugurals, State of the Union addresses, the Olympics, and international summit conferences.	DHS
major hazard - natural or human-induced phenomenon that has the potential for significant and substantial harm to human health, property, activity, and/ or animals or the environment.	DHS man-made disaster - human-caused incident resulting in severe property damage, deaths, and/ or multiple injuries includes such events as airplane accidents, nuclear disasters, oil spills, structural flaws or failures, war, genocide, terrorist attacks.	DHS marine environment - an all-inclusive term that was developed to cover land and water areas that could be affected by pollution from all vessels and not only tank vessels.	DOT/ Maritime marine environment - the physical, atmospheric, and biological components, conditions, and factors which interactively determine the productivity, state, condition, and quality of the marine ecosystem, including the waters of the high seas, the contiguous zone, transitional and intertidal areas, salt marshes, and wetlands within the coastal zone and on the outer Continental Shelf.	DOI
mass killings - 3 or more killings in a single incident.	DHS mechanical energy source - retained spring in an improvised explosive device (IED) or improved weapon that acts as the energy source.	DHS mechanical timing switch - timing switch (e.g., clock, timer, drip timer) constructed or modified so that physical contact between two parts of the timing device complete an electrical circuit initiating the device.	DHS medical facility - any facility or part thereof which is, or will be, under the jurisdiction of the Secretary for the provision of health-care services (including hospital, nursing home, or domiciliary care or medical services), including any necessary building and auxiliary structure, garage, parking facility, mechanical equipment, trackage facilities leading thereto, abutting sidewalks, accommodations for attending personnel, and recreation facilities associated therewith.	DVA medical services - medical examination, treatment, and rehabilitative services, plus: (A) Surgical services; (B) Dental services and appliances; (C) Optometric and podiatric services; (D) Preventive health services; (E) Noninstitutional extended care services, including alternatives to institutional extended care that the Secretary may furnish directly, by contract, or through provision of case management by another provider or payer; (F) In the case of a person otherwise receiving care or services under this chapter: (i) wheelchairs, artificial limbs, trusses, and similar appliances; (ii) special clothing made necessary by the wearing of prosthetic appliances; and (iii) such other supplies or services as the Secretary determines to be reasonable	DVA

medical surge - The capability to rapidly expand the capacity of the existing health care system in order to provide triage and subsequent medical care.	DHHS
medical surge - The capability to rapidly expand the capacity of the existing healthcare system in order to provide triage and subsequent medical care with the goal of rapidly and appropriately extending care for the injured or ill stemming from the event and the maintenance of continuity of care for non-incident related illness or injury.	DHHS
membrane switch - switch incorporating two metal layers, separated by an insulator that functions the IED when perforated or when pressure is applied.	DHS method of emplacement - description of where the device was delivered, used, or employed.	DHS method of improvised explosive device identification - manner in which a unit located a device, components or improvised weapon via visual observation, working animal, sensor, or human tip.	DHS military chemical, biological, radiological, or nuclear improvised explosive device enhancement - chemical, biological, radiological, or nuclear (CBRN) materials manufactured for military use that is deliberately added as a component to an improvised explosive device (IED).	DHS military treatment facility - a medical facility under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of a military department.	DVA mine - explosive munition designed to be placed under, on or near the ground or other surface area and to be actuated by the presence, proximity or contact of an individual , land vehicle, aircraft or boat, including landing craft.	DHS miner - any individual working in a coal or other mine.	DOI
mineral resources - all nonliving natural nonrenewable resources, including fossil fuels, minerals, whether metallic or nonmetallic, but does not include ice, water, or snow.	DOI
Mobile Emergency Response Support - Response capability whose primary function is to provide mobile telecommunications capabilities and life, logistics, operational and power generation support required for the on-site management of disaster response activities. MERS support falls into three broad categories - (1) operational support elements; (2) communications equipment and operators; and (3) logistics support. Also called MERS.	DHS/ FEMA
mobile health station - a health care unit that— (A) is constructed, maintained, and capable of being transported within a semi-trailer truck or similar vehicle; (B) is equipped for the provision of 1 or more specialty health care services; and (C) can be equipped to be docked to a stationary health care facility when appropriate.	DOI mobilization - any activity in which one firefighting organization assists another that has requested assistance.	DOI mobilization - The process and procedures used by all organizations—Federal, State, tribal, and local—for activating, assembling, and transporting all resources that have been requested to respond to or support an incident.	DHS/ FEMA modular component health care facility - a health care facility that is constructed— (1) off-site using prefabricated component units for subsequent transport to the destination location; and (2) represents 1 a more economical method for provision of health care facility 2 than a traditionally constructed health care building.	DOI

mortar munition - complete munition, comprised of projectile and propellant system, to be fired from the mortar projectile normally comprises fuse, body filled with high explosives (HE) or other filling, obturator, and tail assembly.	DHS multijurisdictional incident - An incident requiring action from multiple agencies that each have jurisdiction to manage certain aspects of the incident. In the Incident Command System, these incidents will be managed under Unified Command.	DHS/ FEMA multiple use - the management of the public lands and their various resource values so that they are utilized in the combination that will best meet the present and future needs of the American people; making the most judicious use of the land for some or all of these resources or related services over areas large enough to provide sufficient latitude for periodic adjustments in use to conform to changing needs and conditions; the use of some land for less than all of the resources; a combination of balanced and diverse resource uses that takes into account the long-term needs of future generations for renewable and nonrenewable resources, including, but not limited to, recreation, range, timber, minerals, watershed, wildlife and fish, and natural scenic, scientific and historical values; and harmonious and coordinated management of the various resources without permanent impairment of the productivity of the land and the quality of the environment with consideration being given to the relative values of the resources and not necessarily to the combination of uses that will give the greatest economic return or the greatest unit output.	DOI
Munroe effect - focusing of blast energy caused by a hollow or void cut into the surface of an explosive.	DHS
National Disaster Medical System - A coordinated partnership between Departments of Homeland Security, Health and Human Services, Defense, and Veterans Affairs established for the purpose of responding to the needs of casualties of a public health emergency. Also called NDMS.	DOD
National Disaster Medical System — A federally coordinated medical system, augmenting the United States' medical response capability to assist state, local, and tribal authorities in dealing with medical impacts during major peacetime disasters. Also called NDMS.	DOD
National Disaster Medical System - A federally coordinated system that augments the Nation's medical response capability. The overall purpose of the NDMS is to establish a single, integrated national medical response capability for assisting State and local authorities in dealing with the medical impacts of major peacetime disasters. NDMS, under Emergency Support Function #8 – Public Health and Medical Services, supports Federal agencies in the management and coordination of the Federal medical response to major emergencies and federally declared disasters. Also called NDMS.	DHS/ FEMA national emergency - A condition declared by the President or the Congress by virtue of powers previously vested in them that authorize certain emergency actions to be undertaken in the national interest. See also mobilization.	DOD national emergency - a general declaration of emergency with respect to the national defense made by the President or by the Congress.	ODNI/ CIA/ DOD
National Exercise Program - A Department of Homeland Security-coordinated exercise program based upon the National Planning Scenarios contained which are the National Preparedness Guidelines. This program coordinates and, where appropriate, integrates a 5-year homeland security exercise schedule across Federal agencies and incorporates exercises at the State and local levels.	DHS/ FEMA
National Incident Management System - a system to enable effective, efficient, and collaborative incident management.	DHS
National Response Framework - The guiding principles enabling all levels of domestic response partners to prepare for and provide a unified response to disasters and emergencies. Building on the NIMS, as well as ICS standardization, the NRF's coordinating structures are always in effect for implementation at any level	DOS/ USAID and at any time for local, State, and national emergency or disaster response. For additional information on this document, contact A/ OEM. Also called NRF.

National Special Security Event - An event of national significance as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security. These national or international events, occurrences, contests, activities, or meetings, which, by virtue of their profile or status, represent a significant target, and therefore warrant additional preparation, planning, and mitigation efforts. Also known as NSSE.	DOD
National Urban Search and Rescue Response System - Specialized teams that locate, rescue (extricate), and provide initial medical stabilization of victims trapped in confined spaces. Also called SAR Response System.	DHS/ FEMA
National Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster - A consortium of more than 30 recognized national organizations active in disaster relief. Their organizations provide capabilities to incident management and response efforts at all levels. During major incidents, National VOAD typically sends representatives to the National Response Coordination Center to represent the voluntary organizations and assist in response coordination. Also called National VOAD.	DHS/ FEMA native vegetation - those plant species, communities, or vegetative associations which are endemic to a given area and which would normally be identified with a healthy and productive range condition occurring as a result of the natural vegetative process of the area.	DOI natural disaster - An emergency situation posing significant danger to life and property that results from a natural cause. See also domestic emergencies.	DOD natural disaster - any hurricane, tornado, storm, flood, high water, wind-driven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, drought, fire, or other catastrophe in any part of the United States which causes, or which may cause, substantial damage or injury to civilian property or persons. operation - any plant, equipment, facility, position, employment opportunity, production.	DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA
operational control - The authority to perform those functions of command over subordinate forces involving organizing and employing commands and forces, assigning tasks, designating objectives, and giving authoritative direction necessary to accomplish the mission. Also called OPCON. See also combatant command; combatant command (command authority); tactical control.	DOD
operational control - the prevention of all unlawful entries into the United States, including entries by terrorists, other unlawful aliens, instruments of terrorism, narcotics, and other contraband.	DHS
operations, maintenance, and replacement costs - all costs for the operation of a rural water supply project that are necessary for the safe, efficient, and continued functioning of the project to produce the benefits described in a feasibility study.	DOI
organization - any conservancy district, irrigation district, water users' association, or other organization, which is organized under State law and which has capacity to enter into contracts with the United States pursuant to the Federal reclamation laws.	DOI
organizational camp - a public or semipublic camp that— (A) is developed on National Forest System lands by a nonprofit organization or governmental entity; (B) provides a valuable service to the public by using such lands as a setting to introduce young people or individuals with a disability to activities that they may not otherwise experience and to educate them on natural resource issues; and (C) does not have as its primary purpose raising revenue through commercial activities.	DOI outbreak - same definition as epidemic but is often used for a more limited geographic area.	USAID outcrop - any place where a formation is visible or substantially exposed at the surface.	DOI overhead improvised explosive device emplacement - improvised explosive device (IED) emplaced above the intended target, i.e., hanging from an overpass, on a roof, etc.	DHS passive infrared switch - switch that detects movement of a heat source when the change in ambient temperature is detected, the sensor acts as a trigger to initiate the improvised explosive device.	DHS percussion initiator - device that serves as an igniting element usually initiated by mechanical means.	DHS personal emergency response system - a device: (1) that can be activated by an individual who is experiencing a medical emergency to notify appropriate emergency medical personnel that the individual is experiencing a medical emergency; and (2) that provides the individual's location through a Global Positioning System indicator.	DVA person-borne improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) worn by an individual, either willing or unwilling, such as a vest, belt, backpack, etc., in which the person houses the whole improvised explosive device (IED) or principle improvised explosive device (IED) components and/ or serves as the delivery or concealment means for explosives with an initiating device.	DHS planning section - (1) Incident Command - Section responsible for the collection, evaluation, and dissemination of operational information related to the incident, and for the preparation and documentation of the Incident Action Plan. This Section also maintains information on the current and forecasted situation and on the status of resources assigned to the incident. (2) Joint Field Office - Section that collects, evaluates, disseminates, and uses information regarding the threat or incident and the status of Federal resources. The Planning Section prepares and documents Federal support actions and develops unified action, contingency, long-term, and other plans.	DHS/ FEMA plastic explosive - malleable or flexible explosive at room temperature.	DHS platter charge - explosive used to propel a metal plate towards a target in a manner where the plate forms a type of penetrator.	DHS plunger switch - switch utilizing a shaft where application of pressure on the head of the device will force the shaft downward, functioning the improvised explosive device.	DHS postal improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) introduced or delivered through a postal system.	DHS post-storm assessment - a scientific assessment produced and certified by the Administrator to determine the magnitude, timing, and spatial variations of winds, rainfall, and storm surges associated with a specific named storm to be used in the COASTAL Formula.	DHS powers of self-government - and includes all governmental powers possessed by an Indian tribe, executive, legislative, and judicial, and all offices, bodies, and tribunals by and through which they are executed, including courts of Indian offenses; and means the inherent power of Indian tribes, hereby recognized and affirmed, to exercise criminal jurisdiction over all Indians.	DOI preparedness - the ability to serve Veterans and eligible beneficiaries in times of crisis and to serve as a national asset to the Nation.	DVA

pre-positioned resources - Resources moved to an area near the expected incident site in response to anticipated resource needs.	DHS/ FEMA pre-scripted mission assignment - A mechanism used by the Federal Government to facilitate rapid Federal resource response. Pre-scripted mission assignments identify resources or capabilities that Federal departments and agencies, through various Emergency Support Functions (ESFs), are commonly called	DHS/ FEMA upon to provide during incident response. Pre-scripted mission assignments allow primary and supporting ESF agencies to organize resources that will be deployed during incident response. Also called PMSA.

pressure release switch - method for activating a device that occurs as a result of reductions in pressure such devices may employ mechanical, pneumatic, or hydraulic systems to signal a detonator that a vehicle or person has released pressure to a pressure plate or similar mechanism	DHS pressure switch - method for activating a device that occurs when an object is used to complete a circuit when pressure is applied in a predetermined direction.	DHS primacy of improvised explosive devices - identifying enemy use of improvised explosive devices as a primary, secondary or tertiary form of attack, independent of intended outcome.	DHS primary energy source - the fuel or fuels used for the generation of electric energy, except that such term does not include, as determined under rules prescribed by the Commission, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy— (i) the minimum amounts of fuel required for ignition, startup, testing, flame stabilization, and control uses, and (ii) the minimum amounts of fuel required to alleviate or prevent— (I) unanticipated equipment outages, and (II) emergencies, directly affecting the public health, safety, or welfare, which would result from electric power outages.	DOI primary fusion center - fusion center designated by a state's Governor as the primary fusion center within that state.	DHS primary improvised explosive device - first of two or more improvised explosive devices (IED)s encountered or initiated.	DHS principal or major use - domestic livestock grazing, fish and wildlife development and utilization, mineral exploration and production, rights-of-way, outdoor recreation, and timber production.	DOI
private voluntary organization - a not-for-profit entity that- (A) engages in and supports activities of an economic or social development or humanitarian nature for citizens in foreign countries; and (B) is incorporated as such under the laws of the United States, including any of its states, territories or the District of Columbia, or of a foreign country.	DOS/ USAID
private voluntary organization - a not-for-profit, nongovernmental organization (in the case of a United States organization, an organization that is exempt from Federal income taxes that receives funds from private sources, voluntary contributions of money, staff time, or in-kind support from the public, and that is engaged in or is planning to engage in voluntary, charitable, or development assistance activities (other than religious activities).	USDA production - those activities which take place after the successful completion of any means for the removal of minerals, including such removal, field operations, transfer of minerals to shore, operation monitoring, maintenance, and work-over drilling.	DOI
project - any reclamation or irrigation project, including incidental features thereof, authorized by Federal reclamation law, or constructed by the United States pursuant to such law, or in connection with which there is a repayment or water service contract executed by the United States pursuant to such law, or any project constructed by the Secretary through the Bureau of Reclamation for the reclamation of lands.	DOI
project - complete unit of improvement or development, consisting of a power house, all water conduits, all dams and appurtenant works and structures (including navigation structures) which are a part of said unit, and all storage, diverting, or forebay reservoirs directly connected therewith, the primary line or lines transmitting power therefrom to the point of junction with the distribution system or with the interconnected primary transmission system, all miscellaneous structures used and useful in connection with said unit or any part thereof, and all water-rights, rights-of-way, ditches, dams, reservoirs, lands, or	DOI interest in lands the use and occupancy of which are necessary or appropriate in the maintenance and operation of such unit.

project contract unit - a project or any substantial area of a project which is covered or is proposed to be covered by a repayment contract. On any project where two or more repayment contracts in part cover the same area and in part different areas, the area covered by each such repayment contract shall be a separate project contract unit. On any project where there are either two or more repayment contracts on a single project contract unit or two or more project contract units, the repayment contracts or project contract units may be merged by agreements in form satisfactory to the Secretary.	DOI project costs - the cost of acquisition 1 or construction of all facilities and services and the cost of acquisition of all land and interests in land used in the design and construction and operation of a small hydroelectric power project.	DOI
project works - the physical structures of a project.	DOI projected improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) delivers the main charge through the air to its target.	DHS projectile - object, projected by an applied exterior force and continuing in motion by virtue of its own inertia projectiles can have a variety of fillers including explosives or chemicals.	DHS propellant - explosive material that normally functions by burning to produce a controlled release of gasses used for propulsion purposes.	DHS prospecting - any activity, including logistic support, the purpose of which is the identification of mineral resource potential for possible exploration and development.	DOI protection - actions or measures taken to cover or shield from exposure, injury, or destruction includes such actions and measures needed to ensure protective reactions do not unnecessarily interfere with citizen's freedoms and liberties.	DHS protective action - step taken before, during, or after an incident designed to prevent, minimize, or contain impact of incident methods for selecting the best actions within the time constraints of a fast-moving emergency; measures describe preparations taken before an emergency situation to ensure implementation is possible during an emergency; includes decision-making and implementation issues to rapidly reduce the effects of an emergency situation or contamination.	DHS protective security officer - person that is a member of a facility security force and an element of a security post who has the training, equipment, and appropriate certifications to perform a specific security function.	DHS proxy bomber - person (unwitting or coerced) who acts as a means of delivery of an IED (suicide bomber).	DHS psychological consequence - effect of an incident, event, or occurrence on the mental or emotional state of persons or groups resulting in a change in perception and/ or behavior.	DHS public health - the protection, improvement and promotion of the health and safety of all people. For example, public health databases include spatial data on mortality and natality events, infectious and notifiable diseases, incident cancer cases, behavioral risk factor and tuberculosis surveillance, hazardous substance releases and health effects, hospital statistics and other similar data.	White House public health - The science and practice of protecting and improving the overall health of the community through disease prevention and early diagnosis, control of communicable diseases, health education, injury prevention, sanitation, and protection from environmental hazards.”	DHHS

public health emergency - An infectious-disease outbreak; natural disaster; or chemical, biological, radiological, or nuclear event.	DHHS public health emergency of international concern - An “extraordinary event” that is determined, as provided under the International Health Regulations, “to constitute a public health risk to other States through the international spread of disease; and to potentially require a coordinated international response”	DHHS public health emergency of international concern - An extraordinary event that is determined to constitute a public health risk to other states through the international spread of disease and to potentially require a coordinated international response. Also called PHEIC.	DHHS public information - any information, regardless of form or format, that an agency discloses, disseminates, or makes available to the public.	White House public information - Processes, procedures, and systems for communicating timely, accurate, accessible information on an incident’s cause, size, and current situation; resources committed; and other matters of general interest to the public, responders, and additional stakeholders (both directly affected and indirectly affected).	DHS/ FEMA public information - Within public affairs, information of a military nature, the dissemination of which is consistent with security and approved for public release.	DOD
Public Information Officer - A member of the Command Staff responsible for interfacing with the public and media and/ or with other agencies with incident-related information requirements. Also called PIO.	DHS/ FEMA public involvement - the opportunity for participation by affected citizens in rulemaking, decision-making, and planning with respect to the public lands, including public meetings or hearings held at locations near the affected lands, or advisory mechanisms, or such other procedures as may be necessary to provide public comment in a particular instance.	DOI public lands - such lands and interest in lands owned by the United States as are subject to private appropriation and disposal under public land laws.	DOI public vessel - a governmental vessel that is not in commercial service. It should be noted that a sovereign-controlled foreign-flag vessel that is engaged in commercial service is not a public vessel and is subject to maritime safety and environment laws.	DOT/ Maritime public vessel - a vessel that- (A) is owned, or demise chartered, and operated by the United States Government or a government of a foreign country; and (B) is not engaged in commercial service.	DOT/ Maritime pull switch - switch that functions when an individual applies tension to a firing mechanism – such as pulling a spring.	DHS purpose of improvised explosive device - immediate or direct tactical effect of the IED.	DHS pyrotechnic delay - pyrotechnic device added to a firing system which transmits the ignition flame after a predetermined delay.	DHS pyrotechnic timing switch - timing switch using a burning fuse with a known burn rate to start the initiation train.	DHS radiation detection equipment - any technology that is capable of detecting or identifying nuclear and radiological material or nuclear and radiological explosive devices.	DHS radiological dispersal device - improvised assembly or process, other than a nuclear explosive device, designed to disseminate radioactive material in order to cause destruction, damage, or injury.	DHS radiological improvised explosive device enhancement - radioactive materials that cause casualties or restrict the use of terrain when dispersed by an explosive charge that is deliberately added as a component to an improvised explosive device (IED).	DHS range condition - the quality of the land reflected in its ability in specific vegetative areas to support various levels of productivity in accordance with range management objectives and the land use planning process, and relates to soil quality, forage values (whether seasonal or year round), wildlife habitat, watershed and plant communities, the present state of vegetation of a range site in relation to the potential plant community for that site, and the relative degree to which the kinds, proportions, and amounts of vegetation in a plant community resemble that of the desired community for that site.	DOI range improvement - any activity or program on or relating to rangelands which is designed to improve production of forage; change vegetative composition; control patterns of use; provide water; stabilize soil and water conditions; and provide habitat for livestock and wildlife. The term includes, but is not limited to, structures, treatment projects, and use of mechanical means to accomplish the desired results.	DOI

rangelands or public rangelands - lands administered by the Secretary of the Interior through the Bureau of Land Management or the Secretary of Agriculture through the Forest Service in the sixteen contiguous Western States on which there is domestic livestock grazing or which the Secretary concerned determines may be suitable for domestic livestock grazing.	DOI
raw ivory - any African elephant tusk, and any piece thereof, the surface of which, polished or unpolished, is unaltered or minimally carved.	DOI readiness - the ability to serve Veterans and eligible beneficiaries now and on a day-to-day routine basis.	DVA
recordable contract - a contract between the Secretary and a landowner in writing capable of being recorded under State law providing for the sale or disposition of lands held in excess of the ownership limitations of Federal reclamation law including this subchapter.	DOI recovery - 1. In air (aviation) operations, that phase of a mission that involves the return of an aircraft to a land base or platform afloat. 2. The retrieval of a mine from the location where emplaced. 3. In personnel recovery, actions taken to physically gain custody of isolated personnel and return them to friendly control.	DOD recovery - The development, coordination, and execution of service- and site-restoration plans; the reconstitution of government operations and services; individual, private-sector, nongovernmental, and public-assistance programs to provide housing and to promote restoration; long-term care and treatment of affected persons; additional measures for social, political, environmental, and economic restoration; evaluation of the incident to identify lessons learned; post incident reporting; and development of initiatives to mitigate the effects of future incidents.	DHS/ FEMA recovery - those capabilities necessary to assist communities affected by an incident to recover effectively, including, but not limited to, rebuilding infrastructure systems; providing adequate interim and long-term housing for survivors; restoring health, social, and community services; promoting economic development; and restoring natural and cultural resources.	White House recovery and reconstitution - 1. Those actions taken by one nation prior to, during, and following an attack by an enemy nation to minimize the effects of the attack, rehabilitate the national economy, provide for the welfare of the populace, and maximize the combat potential of remaining forces and supporting activities. 2. Those actions taken by a military force during or after operational employment to restore its combat capability to full operational readiness. See also recovery.	DOD

Domestic Support – All Hazards Emergency Management

recovery operations - Operations conducted to search for, locate, identify, recover, and return isolated personnel, human remains, sensitive equipment, or items critical to national security.	DOD recovery - development, coordination, and execution of service- and site-restoration plans.	DHS recreational vessel - a class of vessel whose primary purpose is for pleasure.	DOT/ Maritime recreational vessel - a vessel-(A) being manufactured or operated primarily for pleasure; or (B) leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's pleasure.	DOT/ Maritime repair and rehabilitation - (i) the repair or rebuilding of a levee or other flood control structure, after the structure has been damaged by a flood, to the level of protection provided by the structure before the flood; but (ii) does not include—(I) any improvement to the structure; or (II) repair or rebuilding described in clause (i) if, in the normal course of usage, the structure becomes structurally unsound and is no longer fit to provide the level of protection for which the structure was designed.	DHS repayment contract - any contract providing for payment of construction charges to the United States.	DOI request for assistance - A request based on mission requirements and expressed in terms of desired outcome, formally asking the Department of Defense to provide assistance to a local, state, tribal, or other federal agency. Also called RFA.	DOD reservations - national forests, tribal lands embraced within Indian reservations, military reservations, and other lands and interests in lands owned by the United States, and withdrawn, reserved, or withheld from private appropriation and disposal under the public land laws; also lands and interests in lands acquired and held for any public purposes; but shall not include national monuments or national parks.	DOI reserved works - any project facility at which the Secretary carries out the operation and maintenance of the project facility.	DOI
response - those capabilities necessary to save lives, protect property and the environment, and meet basic human needs after an incident has occurred.	White House
river - a flowing body of water or estuary or a section, portion, or tributary thereof, including rivers, streams, creeks, runs, kills, rills, and small lakes.	DOI
rock dust - pulverized limestone, dolomite, gypsum, anhydrite, shale, adobe, or other inert material, preferably light colored, 100 per centum of which will pass through a sieve having twenty meshes per linear inch and 70 per centum or more of which will pass through a sieve having two hundred meshes per linear inch; the particles of which when wetted and dried will not cohere to form a cake which will not be dispersed into separate particles by a light blast of air; and which does not contain more than 5 per centum of combustible matter or more than a total of 4 per centum of free and combined silica (SiO ₂), or, where the Secretary finds that such silica concentrations are not available, which does not contain more than 5 per centum of free and combined silica.	DOI

sacred objects - specific ceremonial objects which are needed by traditional Native American religious leaders for the practice of traditional Native American religions by their present day adherents	DOI
safe-to-arm switch - device used to arm the improvised explosive device (IED) to ensure that the emplacer can safely plant the improvised explosive device (IED) and leave the location.	DHS safety - condition of being safe from undergoing or causing hurt, injury, or loss.	DHS scenic easement - the right to control the use of land (including the air space above such land) within the authorized boundaries of a component of the wild and scenic rivers system, for the purpose of protecting the natural qualities of a designated wild, scenic or recreational river area, but such control shall not affect, without the owner's consent, any regular use exercised prior to the acquisition of the easement. For any designated wild and scenic river, the appropriate Secretary shall treat the acquisition of fee title with the reservation of regular existing uses to the owner as a scenic easement for purposes of this chapter. Such an acquisition shall not constitute fee title ownership.	DOI sea mine - explosive device laid in the water with the intention of damaging or sinking ships or of deterring shipping from entering an area does not include devices attached to the bottom of ships or to harbor installations by personnel operating underwater.	DHS secondary improvised explosive device - additional improvised explosive device (IED) emplaced in the target area to attack individuals or vehicles after the initial event.	DHS serious bodily injury - injury that creates a substantial risk of death or which causes serious, permanent disfigurement or impairment.	DHS
shaped charge - main charge configuration incorporating explosives shaped so as to concentrate its explosive force utilizing the Munroe effect in a particular direction in order to cut or penetrate (i.e. a plasma jet).	DHS shelter-in-place - taking emergency refuge within the nearest designated safe area until notification or determination that the situation has been resolved a precaution intended to keep people safe while remaining indoors where the shelter area is preferably a small interior room with no windows and may require efforts of sealing all cracks or openings with tape or other materials	DHS shock tube initiator - thin, plastic tube of extruded polymer with a layer of high explosive deposited on its interior surface that propagates a detonation wave to the blasting cap	DHS short-term recovery - A process of recovery that is immediate and overlaps with response. It includes such actions as providing essential public health and safety services, restoring interrupted utility and other essential services, reestablishing transportation routes, and providing food and shelter for those displaced by a disaster. Although called short term, some of these activities may last for weeks.	DHS/ FEMA situational awareness - information gathered from a variety of sources that, when communicated to emergency managers and decision makers, can form the basis for incident management decision-making.	DHS situational awareness - The ability to identify, process, and comprehend the critical elements of information about an incident.	DHS/ FEMA smallpox emergency response plan or plan - a response plan detailing actions to be taken in preparation for a possible smallpox-related emergency during the period prior to the identification of an active case of smallpox either within or outside the United States.	DHHS

Special event - An international or domestic event, contest, activity, or meeting, which by its very nature, or by specific statutory or regulatory authority, may warrant security, safety, and other logistical support or assistance.	DOD specialty health care service - a health care service which requires the services of a health care professional with specialized knowledge or experience.	DOI
speleogen - relief features on the walls, ceiling, and floor of any cave or lava tube which are part of the surrounding bedrock, including but not limited to anastomoses, scallops, meander niches, petromorphs and rock pendants in solution caves and similar features unique to volcanic caves.	DOI
speleothem - any natural mineral formation or deposit occurring in a cave or lava tube, including but not limited to any stalactite, stalagmite, helictite, cave flower, flowstone, concretion, drapery, rimstone, or formation of clay or mud.	DOI
squib/ ignitor - item that causes the deflagration of low explosives, can be either electric or non-electric.	DHS staging area - Any location in which personnel, supplies, and equipment can be temporarily housed or parked while awaiting operational assignment.	DHS/ FEMA standard operating procedure - The specific references made in this subchapter to auxiliary and supplementary material that further details procedures and processes that apply to the FS assignment process. Also called SOP.	DOS/ USAID standard operating procedure — A set of instructions applicable to those features of operations that lend themselves to a definite or standardized procedure without loss of effectiveness. Also called SOP; standing operating procedure.	DOD standard operating procedure - Complete reference document or an operations manual that provides the purpose, authorities, duration, and details for the preferred method of performing a single function or a	DHS/ FEMA number of interrelated functions in a uniform manner. Also called SOP.

state utility - a State or any political subdivision of a State, or any agency, authority, or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, or a corporation that is wholly owned, directly or indirectly, by any one or more of the foregoing, competent to carry on the business of developing, transmitting, utilizing, or distributing power.	DOI steam vessel - a vessel propelled in whole or in part by steam, except a recreational vessel of not more than 40 feet in length.	DOT/ Maritime submersible vessel - a vessel that is capable of operating below the surface of the water.	DOT/ Maritime submunition - munition that, to perform its task, separates from a parent munition.	DHS substantially damaged structure - a structure covered by a contract for flood insurance that has incurred damage for which the cost of repair exceeds an amount specified in any regulation promulgated by the Administrator, or by a community ordinance, whichever is lower.	DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA subsurface improvised explosive device emplacement - improvised explosive device (IED) emplaced under the surface or below the intended target, i.e. buried, in a culvert, underwater.	DHS suicide improvised explosive device employment - improvised explosive device (IED) initiated by an insurgent/ terrorist at a time of his/ her choosing in which the operator intentionally kills himself/ herself as part of the attack, or to deny his/ her capture.	DHS suicide vehicle-borne improvised explosive device - improvised explosive device (IED) explosive intentionally initiated by the vehicle's occupant, or by secondary RC switch.	DHS support agency - See Emergency Support Function (ESF) Support Agency.	DHS/ FEMA support annexes - Describe how Federal departments and agencies, the private sector, volunteer organizations, and nongovernmental organizations coordinate and execute the common support processes and administrative tasks required during an incident. The actions described in the Support Annexes are not limited to particular types of events, but are overarching in nature and applicable to nearly every type of incident.	DHS/ FEMA supported commander — 1. The commander having primary responsibility for all aspects of a task assigned by the Joint Strategic Capabilities Plan or other joint operation planning authority. 2. In the context of joint operation planning, the commander who prepares operation plans or operation orders in response to requirements of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. 3. In the context of a support command relationship, the commander who receives assistance from another commander's force or capabilities, and who is responsible for ensuring that the supporting commander understands the assistance required. See also support; supporting commander.	DOD supporting commander — 1. A commander who provides augmentation forces or other support to a supported commander or who develops a supporting plan. 2. In the context of a support command relationship, the commander who aids, protects, complements, or sustains another commander's force, and who is responsible for providing the assistance required by the supported commander.	DOD surface improvised explosive device emplacement - improvised explosive device (IED) emplaced directly on the ground.	DHS surge - a significant increase in imports over the trend for a recent representative base period.	DHS surge - to increase the amount of or degree of	DHS surge capacity - the ability to rapidly and substantially increase the provision of search and rescue capabilities, food, water, medicine, shelter and housing, medical care, evacuation capacity, staffing (including disaster assistance employees), and other resources necessary to save lives and protect property during a catastrophic incident.	DHS sustained yield - the achievement and maintenance in perpetuity of a high-level annual or regular periodic output of the various renewable resources of the public lands consistent with multiple use.	DOI switch - device for making, breaking, or changing a connection.	DHS tactical control — The authority over forces that is limited to the detailed direction and control of movements or maneuvers within the operational area necessary to accomplish missions or tasks assigned. Also called TACON. See also combatant command; combatant command (command authority); operational control.	DOD tactical level - indication of scale of significance for actions or plans that involve deployment and use of assets to accomplish specific objectives.	DHS tactics - Deploying and directing resources on an incident to accomplish the objectives designated by the strategy.	DHS/ FEMA tactics, techniques, and procedures development - using the lessons learned from an IED attack to refine and improve the tools and methods used during all missions in which an IED may occur (e.g., convoys, tactical suppression efforts, ISR, C-IED missions, etc.)	DHS tactics, techniques, and procedures identification - improvised explosive device (IED) incidents primarily intended to cause a reaction by forces in an effort to learn and understand employed tactics.	DHS tank vessel - a vessel that is constructed or adapted to carry, or that carries, oil or hazardous material in bulk as cargo or cargo residue, and that— (A) is a vessel of the United States;(B) operates on the navigable waters of the United States; or(C) transfers oil or hazardous material in a port or place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.	DOT/ Maritime tanker - a self-propelled tank vessel constructed or adapted primarily to carry oil or hazardous material in bulk in the cargo spaces.	DOT/ Maritime taxonomy - hierarchical structure used for categorizing a body of information or knowledge facilitates understanding of how a body of knowledge can be broken down into parts, and how its various parts relate to each other.	DHS technical assistance - i) technical services provided directly to farmers, ranchers, and other eligible entities, such as conservation planning, technical consultation, and assistance with design and implementation of conservation practices; and (ii) technical infrastructure, including activities, processes, tools, and agency functions needed to support delivery of technical services, such as technical standards, resource inventories, training, data, technology, monitoring, and effects analyses.	DOI technical assistance - technical expertise, information, and tools necessary for the conservation of natural resources on land active in agricultural, forestry, or related uses.	DOI telemental health - the use of electronic information and telecommunications technologies to support long-distance mental health care, patient and professional-related education, public health, and health administration.	DOI tension release trigger - victim operated trigger that, when tension is released – such as when a taut wire or cord is cut or broken – releases a spring-loaded firing pin or closes electrical contacts initiating the device.	DHS tension/ pull trigger - victim operated device that triggers an explosion when tension is applied to a firing mechanism – such as pulling a trip wire causing an action that releases a firing pin or activates an electrical or electronic switch.	DHS territorial instrumentality - any political subdivision, public agency, instrumentality—including any instrumentality that is also a bank—or public corporation of a territory, and this term should be broadly construed to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.	DOI tertiary improvised explosive device - additional improvised explosive device (IED) emplaced in the target area to attack individuals or vehicles after the initial and secondary events.	DHS thorough decontamination — Decontamination carried out by a unit to reduce contamination on personnel, equipment, materiel, and/ or working areas equal to natural background or to the lowest possible levels, to permit the partial or total removal of individual protective equipment and to maintain operations with minimum degradation. See also immediate decontamination; operational decontamination.	DOD tilt switch - device that allows voltage to flow to the output wires after a conductive material is moved enough (up/ down, left/ right) to flow onto the switch contacts, completing the circuit (mercury, ball bearing in a glass tube).	DHS time fuse/ safety fuse initiator - pyrotechnic contained in a flexible and weather-proof sheath burning at a timed and constant rate; used to transmit a flame to the detonator or a low explosive charge with a predetermined delay.	DHS time mechanical switch - time switch constructed or modified so that physical contact between two parts of the timing mechanism complete an electrical circuit.	DHS towing vessel - a commercial vessel engaged in or intending to engage in the service of pulling, pushing, or hauling along side, or any combination of pulling, pushing, or hauling along side.	DOT/ Maritime towing vessel - a vessel in commercial service that pushes, pulls, or tows alongside and includes what is traditionally known as a tug.	DOT/ Maritime traditional food - wild game meat; (ii) fish; (iii) seafood; (iv) marine mammals; (v) plants; and (vi) berries.	DOI traditional food - food that has traditionally been prepared and consumed by an Indian tribe.	DOI

incitement of terrorism - Incitement with intent to cause bodily harm renders an alien inadmissible under INA if he or she has incited terrorist activity under circumstances indicating an intention to cause death or serious bodily harm. Incited in the context of INA is speech that induces or otherwise moves another person to undertake terrorist activity. Normally speech will not rise to the level of inciting unless there is a clear link between the speech and an actual effort to undertake the terrorist activity. It connotes speech that is not merely an expression of views but that directs or induces action, typically in a volatile situation. The applicant may have incited terrorist activity even if a terrorist attack does not actually occur (e.g., because an attempt to commit such activity was thwarted). An applicant who has incited terrorist activity must also have acted in circumstances indicating an intention to cause death or serious bodily harm to be inadmissible under INA. In other words, the aliens speech must not only have induced others to undertake terrorist activity, but it must also have been made with the specific intent that such activity would result in death or serious bodily injury. Incitement and the requisite intent to cause bodily harm could be inferred in the following situations - (a) Widespread opposition to Country A's policies and actions lead to a series of protests, some violent, outside Country As embassy in Country B. The applicant goes to the embassy, stands on a box, and shouts to the crowd to join him in standing up to Country A and humiliating it. Shortly afterwards, when he sees an embassy vehicle approaching, he yells - Don't let them in! Make them pay for what they have done! The crowd blocks the car and removes occupants (including a diplomat working at Country As embassy), from the car, beating them severely and taking them hostage. Analysis - Diplomatic hostage-taking and violent attacks on diplomats are terrorist activities. Given the aliens urging the crowd to stop the embassy vehicle and make them pay, you would have reasonable ground to believe that the applicants speech incited terrorist activity. The aliens make them pay statement, when viewed against the backdrop of previous violent protests and his general comments about standing up to Country A and humiliating it, would provide you with reasonable ground to believe that the applicant intended to cause death or serious bodily harm. (b) The applicant is an ardent nationalist whose opinions voiced to a particular audience regularly blame foreigners for his country's problems and who argues that the only solution to these problems is that foreigners should be driven out of the country. Press reports say that some of those in the targeted audience have been purchasing weapons and seeking to obtain and manufacture explosives. Police notify the applicant or those associated with the applicant that they are investigating several of those in the targeted audience for weapons-related offenses. At the end of a week of particularly strong anti-foreign sentiment, the applicant gives a special speech entitled A Call to Action. With the knowledge that those under investigation are in the audience, the applicant begins his speech with - The time has come for action! He then reiterates throughout his speech that The only solution to the country's problems is to purge our great land of these foreigners once and for all through whatever means necessary. Shortly thereafter, some of those in the target audience detonate a truck bomb outside a restaurant frequented by foreign nationals, killing several foreign nationals and injuring many restaurant employees. Analysis - The use of any explosive with intent to endanger, directly or indirectly, the safety of one or more individuals or to cause substantial damage to property is a terrorist activity. In the example, the applicant helps foster anti-foreign sentiments and then, during a particularly tense period, urges students to act to drive foreigners from the country through whatever means necessary. Under these circumstances, you would have reasonable ground to believe that the applicants speech incited terrorist activity. The fact that the applicant knew that several students likely had access to weapons and/ or explosives and that those students were in attendance at his special lecture would provide you with reasonable ground to believe that the applicant intended to cause death or serious bodily harm.	DOS/ USAID

resource planning guidance - document providing instruction for that is the final output of the planning phase which serves as an authoritative statement directing homeland security policy, strategy, and resource planning consists of the following elements: resource planning priorities, policy and strategy guidance, programmatic guidance, and Winter Studies, which are issues that require additional analysis ahead of the program and budget review (PBR).	DHS resources - Personnel and major items of equipment, supplies, and facilities available or potentially available for assignment to incident operations and for which status is maintained. Under the National Incident Management System, resources are described by kind and type and may be used in operational support or supervisory capacities at an incident or at an emergency operations center.	DHS/ FEMA
resources - personnel and major items of equipment, supplies, and facilities available or potentially available for responding to a natural disaster, act of terrorism, or other man-made disaster.	DHS
restricted area - room, office, building, or facility to which access is strictly and tightly controlled.	DHS returning resident - a. A Lawful Permanent Resident (LPR) who has remained outside the United States for more than one year may be eligible for returning resident immigrant visa status if the consular officer is satisfied that -(1) The alien departed the United States with the intention of returning to an unrelinquished residence; and(2) The aliens stay abroad was for reasons beyond the aliens control and for which the alien was not responsible.	DOS/ USAID revocation of eligibility for access and/ or security clearance - adjudicative determination that an individual who had access to classified information is no longer eligible to have such access to classified information.	DHS
risk - A measure of the extent to which an entity is threatened by a potential circumstance or event, and is typically a function of - (i) the adverse impacts that would arise if the circumstance or event occurs; and (ii) the likelihood of occurrence.	DOS/ USAID

occurs; and (ii) the likelihood of occurrence.
risk - a measure of the probability and severity of undesirable consequences.	DHS risk - As it pertains to source selection, is the potential for unsuccessful contract performance. The consideration of risk assesses the degree to which an offerors proposed approach to achieving the technical factor or subfactor may involve risk of disruption of schedule, increased cost or degradation of performance, the need for increased U.S. Government oversight, and the likelihood of unsuccessful contract performance. For firm fixed-price contracts, the reference to increased cost may be removed from the risk definition.	DOS/ USAID risk - potential for an unwanted outcome as determined by its likelihood and the consequences potential for an adverse outcome assessed as a function of hazard/ threats, assets and their vulnerabilities, and consequences.	DHS risk - Probability and severity of loss linked to hazards. See also hazard; risk management.	DOD risk - The net mission impact considering - (1) the probability that a particular threat-source will exercise (accidentally trigger or intentionally exploit) a particular IT system vulnerability; and (2) the resulting impact if this should occur. IT system-related risks arise from legal liability or mission loss due to - (1) Unauthorized (malicious or accidental) disclosure, modification, or destruction of information; (2) Unintentional errors and omissions; (3) IT disruptions due to natural or man-made disasters; and (4) Failure to exercise due care and diligence in the implementation and operation of the IT system.	DOS/ USAID risk - The potential for encountering negative technical, costs, or schedule impacts in a project.	DOS/ USAID risk acceptance - explicit or implicit decision not to take an action that would affect all or part of a particular risk.	DHS risk analysis - systematic examination of the components and characteristics of risk.	DHS risk assessment - A documented review of the susceptibility of an assessable unit, program, or activity to the occurrence of fraud, waste, loss, unauthorized use, misappropriation, or susceptibility to generate significant improper payments. General reviews will focus on areas such as the existing inherent risk or vulnerability, existing general control environment and safeguards in place, and adherence to the internal control standards. The Department will employ a systematic method of reviewing all programs and activities to identify programs and activities that are susceptible to significant improper payments.	DOS/ USAID risk assessment - A method to calculate risk. Risk is the result of three factors - (1) The impact or consequences of an undesirable event that causes the loss of or damage to a Department asset (i.e., people, information, equipment, facilities, activities, and operations); (2) The threat or likelihood that undesirable event will occur; and (3) All vulnerabilities associated with that undesirable event.	DOS/ USAID risk assessment - an evaluation of-(A) the potential for the introduction, establishment or spread of a pest or disease and associated biological and economic consequences; or(B) the potential for adverse effects on human or animal life or health arising from the presence of an additive, contaminant, toxin or disease-causing organism in a food, beverage, or feedstuff.	DHS risk assessment - an on-site investigation to determine and report the existence, nature, severity and location of lead-based paint hazards in residential dwellings, including- (A) information gathering regarding the age and history of the housing and occupancy by children under age 6;(B) visual inspection;(C) limited wipe sampling or other environmental sampling techniques; (D) other activity as may be appropriate; and (E) provision of a report explaining the results of the investigation.	DHHS/ HUD/ EPA/ FEMA risk assessment - product or process evaluating information based on a set of criteria and assigns values to risks for the purpose of informing priorities, developing or comparing courses of action, and informing decision making appraisal of the risks facing an entity, asset, system, network, geographic area or other grouping ³	DHS risk assessment - The identification and assessment of hazards (first two steps of risk management process). Also called RA.	DOD risk assessment - The process of identifying risks to organizational operations (including mission, functions, image, or reputation), organizational assets, individuals, other organizations, and the Nation, arising through the operation of an information system.	DOS/ USAID risk assessment - The process of identifying the risks to system security and determining the probability of occurrence, the resulting impact, and additional safeguards that would mitigate this impact. This is part of risk management and synonymous with risk analysis.	DOS/ USAID risk assessment methodology - set of methods, principles, or rules used to identify and assess risks and to form priorities, develop courses of action, and inform decision-making	DHS risk assessment tool - activity, item, or program that contributes to determining and evaluating risks.	DHS risk avoidance - strategies or measures taken that effectively remove exposure to a risk	DHS risk communication - exchange of information with the goal of improving risk understanding, affecting risk perception and/ or equipping people or groups to act appropriately in response to an identified risk.	DHS risk control - deliberate action taken to reduce the potential for harm or maintain it at an acceptable level.	DHS risk data - information on key components of risk that are outputs of or inputs to risk assessments and risk analyses.	DHS risk exposure - contact of an asset, system, or geographic area with a potential hazard.	DHS risk governance - actors, rules, practices, processes, and mechanisms concerned with how risk is analyzed, managed, and communicated.	DHS risk group [infectious biological agents] - categorization of infectious biological agents based on their relative risks, using following criteria: i) pathogenicity; ii) mode of transmission and host range; iii) availability of effective preventive measures, such as vaccines; iv) availability of effective treatment, including antibiotics; and v) other factors as appropriate	DHS risk identification - process of finding, recognizing, and describing potential risks ³	DHS risk indicator - Definition: measure that signals the potential for an unwanted outcome as determined by qualitative or quantitative analysis.	DHS risk management - process of identifying, analyzing, and communicating risk and accepting, avoiding, transferring or controlling it to an acceptable level considering associated costs and benefits of any actions taken.	DHS risk management - The process of identifying, assessing, and controlling risks arising from operational factors and making decisions that balance risk cost with mission benefits. Also called RM. See also risk.	DOD risk management - the program and supporting processes to manage risk to agency operations (including	White mission, functions, image, reputation), agency assets, individuals, other organizations, and the Nation, and includes: establishing the context for risk-related activities; assessing risk; responding to risk once determined; and monitoring risk over time.	House risk management - the systematic application, by the owner or operator of a pipeline facility, of management policies, procedures, finite resources, and practices to the tasks of identifying, analyzing, assessing, reducing, and controlling risk in order to protect employees, the general public, the environment, and pipeline facilities.	DOT risk management - The total process of identifying, controlling, and mitigating IT system-related risks. It includes risk assessment; cost benefit analysis; and the selection, implementation, test, and security evaluation of security controls. This overall system security review considers both effectiveness and efficiency, including impact on the mission and constraints due to policy, regulations, and laws.	DOS/ USAID risk management alternatives development - process of systematically examining risks to develop a range of options and their anticipated effects for decision makers.	DHS risk management cycle - sequence of steps that are systematically taken and revisited to manage risk.	DHS risk management methodology - set of methods, principles, or rules used to identify, analyze, assess, and communicate risk, and mitigate, accept, or control it to an acceptable level at an acceptable cost.	DHS risk management plan - document that identifies risks and specifies the actions that have been chosen to manage those risks.	DHS risk management strategy - course of action or actions to be taken in order to manage risks proactive approach to reduce the usually negative impacts of various risks by choosing within a range of options that include complete avoidance of any risk that would cause harm or injury, accepting the risk, controlling the risk by employing risk mitigation options to reduce impacts, or transferring some or all of the risk to another entity based on a set of stated priorities.	DHS risk management strategy - the description of how an agency intends to assess risk, respond to risk, and monitor risk, making explicit and transparent the risk perceptions that organizations routinely use in making both investment and operational decisions.	White House risk matrix - tool for ranking and displaying components of risk in an array.	DHS risk mitigation - application of measure or measures to reduce the likelihood of an unwanted occurrence and/ or its consequences.	DHS risk mitigation option - measure, device, policy, or course of action taken with the intent of reducing risk.	DHS risk perception - subjective judgment about the characteristics and/ or severity of risk.	DHS risk profile - description and/ or depiction of risks to an asset, system, network, geographic area or other entity.	DHS risk reduction - decrease in risk through risk avoidance, risk control or risk transfer.	DHS risk response - accepting, avoiding, mitigating, sharing, or transferring risk to agency operations, agency assets, individuals, other organizations, or the Nation.	White House risk score - numerical result of a semi-quantitative risk assessment methodology numerical representation that gauges the combination of threat, vulnerability, and consequence at a specific moment.	DHS risk tolerance - degree to which an entity is willing to accept risk.	DHS risk transfer - action taken to manage risk that shifts some or all of the risk to another entity, asset, system, network, or geographic area.	DHS

risk-informed decision making - determination of a course of action predicated on the assessment of risk, the expected impact of that course of action on that risk, as well as other relevant factors.	DHS roadmap - an assessment of manufacturing interoperability requirements developed by an industry describing that industry's goals related to enterprise integration, the knowledge and standards including application protocols necessary to achieve those goals, and the necessary steps, timetable, and assignment of responsibilities for acquiring the knowledge and developing the standards and protocols.	DOC
root cause - initiating cause of a causal chain which leads to an outcome or effect of interest.	DHS root cause analysis - method for identifying the underlying causes of why something occurred.	DHS
sabotage - activities that involve a violation, or that would involve such a violation if committed against the United States.	ODNI/ CIA/ DOD
sacred objects - specific ceremonial objects which are needed by traditional Native American religious leaders	DOI

for the practice of traditional Native American religions by their present day adherents safe haven - 1. Designated area(s) to which noncombatant evacuees of the United States Government's responsibility and commercial vehicles and materiel may be evacuated during a domestic or other valid emergency. 2. A protected body of water or the well deck of an amphibious ship used by small craft operating offshore for refuge from storms or heavy seas.	DOD safe haven - The temporary storage of a posts valuable records in the Department or a nearby post deemed appropriate until hostilities subside.	DOS/ USAID safety, health, environmental management system - part of an organization's management system used to develop and implement its safety, health, environmental systems policy and manage its environmental aspects a set of interrelated elements (organizational structure, planning activities, responsibilities, practices, procedures, and resources) used to establish and achieve environmental performance objectives.	DHS screening - a visual or automated review of information about goods, including manifest or entry documentation accompanying a shipment being imported into the United States, to determine the presence of misdeclared, restricted, or prohibited items and assess the level of threat posed by such cargo.	DHS screening - In intelligence, the evaluation of an individual or a group of individuals to determine their potential to answer collection requirements or to identify individuals who match a predetermined source profile coupled with the process of identifying and assessing the areas of knowledge, cooperation, and possible approach techniques for an individual who has information of intelligence value.	DOD screening - systematic examination or assessment, done especially to detect a potential threat or risk or any particular substance, attribute, person, or undesirable material includes methods that agencies use to investigate locations or geographic areas, or an applicant's background to identify potential security risks and the degree/ extent of the investigation may vary based on access/ position requirements.	DHS search - manual examination with or without assisting detection technologies, to resolve anomalies, to confirm adherence to standards or compliance with laws, or to detect threats for passengers and cargo, includes cavity search on passenger, pat-down, visual inspection, devanning of containers, etc.	DHS search and detect sensor - sensor which detects, measures, may indicate and/ or record objects and activities by means of energy or particles emitted, reflected, or modified by objects for the purpose of identifying IED activity.	DHS search and rescue center facility - a Coast Guard shore facility that maintains a search and rescue mission coordination and communications watch.	DHS/ USCG secret [classification] - information, the unauthorized disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security of the United States.	DHS
Sector Command Center - Joint - Sector Command Center with U.S. Navy personnel to augment U.S. Coast Guard Sector Command Center organization and coordinate operations and planning.	DHS
Sector Command Center - U.S. Coast Guard organization that serves in an operations integration function capacity and is organizationally located to equally support both Response and Prevention Departments with the Sector Command.	DHS
Sector Coordinating Council - a private sector coordinating council composed of representatives of owners and operators within a particular sector of critical infrastructure established by the National Infrastructure Protection Plan or any successor.	DHS

Sector-Specific Agency - in the Presidential Policy Directive entitled 'Critical Infrastructure Security and Resilience', numbered 21, and dated February 12, 2013.	DHS secure - to gain possession of and/ or to ensure protection from unauthorized use, harm, loss or risk to reduce risk and protect information and/ or critical infrastructure from a terrorist attack, natural disaster, or other type of incident, either malicious or unintentional.	DHS secure area [information security] - area, room, group of rooms, building, or installation where classified information may be stored, used, discussed, and/ or electronically processed so designated as such by the appropriate authority.	DHS
Secure Internet Protocol Router Network - U.S. Department of Defense network for the exchange of classified information and messages at the Secret level.	DHS secure/ security - reducing the risk to critical infrastructure by physical means or defense cyber measures to intrusions, attacks, or the effects of natural or manmade disasters.	White House security — 1. Measures taken by a military unit, activity, or installation to protect itself against all acts designed to, or which may, impair its effectiveness. 2. A condition that results from the establishment and maintenance of protective measures that ensure a state of inviolability from hostile acts or influences. 3. With respect to classified matter, the condition that prevents unauthorized persons from having access to official information that is safeguarded in the interests of national security. See also national security.	DOD security - any note, stock, treasury stock, security future, security-based swap, bond, debenture, evidence of indebtedness, certificate of interest or participation in any profit-sharing agreement, collateral-trust certificate, preorganization certificate or subscription, transferable share, investment contract, voting-trust certificate, certificate of deposit for a security, fractional undivided interest in oil, gas, or other mineral rights, any put, call, straddle, option, or privilege on any security, certificate of deposit, or group or index of securities (including any interest therein or based on the value thereof), or any put, call, straddle, option, or privilege entered into on a national securities exchange relating to foreign currency, or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a security, or any certificate of interest or participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing.	DOC security - condition that results from the establishment and maintenance of protective measures that ensure a state of inviolability from hostile acts or influences.	DHS security - the protection of the Nation and its people, vital interests, and way of life.	White House security category - characterization of information or an information system based on an assessment of the potential impact that a loss of confidentiality, integrity, or availability of such information or information system would have on organizational operations, organizational assets, or individuals.	DHS security clearance - administrative determination made by competent authority that an individual is eligible, has a need-to-know, has been briefed, and met all of the requirements from a security standpoint for access to classified information.	DHS security control - management, operational, and technical controls (i.e., safeguards or countermeasures) prescribed for an information system to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the system and its information.	DHS security control - the management, operational, and technical controls used to protect against an unauthorized effort to adversely affect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of an information system or its information.	DHS security domain - The environment of systems for which a unique security policy is applicable.	DOS/ USAID security guideline - any security-related guidance that the Secretary recommends, for implementation on a voluntary basis, to enhance the security of surface transportation.	DHS security infraction - knowing, willful, or negligent action contrary to the requirements of Executive Order 12958, as amended, and its implementing directives, that does not rise to the level of a security violation.	DHS security management system - a set of guidelines that address the security assessment needs of critical infrastructure and key resources that are consistent with a set of generally accepted management standards ratified and adopted by a standards making body.	DHS security professional - functional career occupation (e.g., Chief Security Officer, Facility Security Officer, Program Security Officer, Special Security Representative, or Special Security Officer) in which the incumbent executes or manages federal government agency or industrial security programs and related security activities, ensuring compliance with government security policies, directives, and procedures.	DHS security risk - risk associated with the security/ vulnerability of systems, web sites, information and networks includes; risk of intrusions and connectivity to other (vulnerable) systems; risk associated with the evolution of credible threats; risk associated with the misuse (criminal/ fraudulent) of information; level of risk (high, medium, basic) and what aspect of security determines the level of risk (e.g., need for confidentiality of information associated with the project/ system, availability of the information or system, or reliability of the information or system).	DHS security violation - knowing, willful, or negligent action: (1) that could reasonably be expected to result in an unauthorized disclosure of classified information; (2) to classify or continue the classification of information contrary to the requirements of Executive Order 12958, as amended, and its implementing directives; and/ or (3) to create or continue a special access program contrary to the requirements of Executive Order 12958, as amended.	DHS security vulnerability - any attribute of hardware, software, process, or procedure that could enable or facilitate the defeat of a security control.	DHS security-in-depth - facility security program consisting of layered and complementary security controls sufficient to deter and detect unauthorized entry and movement within the facility includes, but is not limited to, use of perimeter fences, employee and visitor access controls, use of an intrusion detection system, random guard patrols throughout the facility during nonworking hours, closed circuit video monitoring, or other safeguards that mitigate the vulnerability of open storage areas without alarms and security storage cabinets during nonworking hours.	DHS security-related technology - any technology that assists the Administration in the prevention of, or defense against, threats to United States transportation systems, including threats to people, property, and information.	DHS semi-quantitative risk assessment methodology - set of methods, principles, or rules to assess risk that uses bins, scales, or representative numbers whose values and meanings are not maintained in other contexts.	DHS

Senior Accountable Official [Directive System] - person in a Component at the Chief of Staff level or higher (or designee) who provides final approval on all Directives System related documents on behalf of the Component.	DHS
Senior Agency Official [Classified Information] - person designated by the agency head to direct and administer the agency's program under which information is classified, safeguarded, and declassified.	DHS sensitive area [information security] - area where sensitive information is discussed or processed on a routine basis.	DHS Sensitive But Unclassified information - information that is not classified, but is sensitive in nature and the unauthorized disclosure of which could adversely impact a person's privacy or welfare, the conduct of federal programs, or other programs or operations essential to the national interest.	DHS sensitive compartmented information - classified information concerning, or derived from, intelligence sources and/ or methods established by the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) the sensitivity of which requires that it be protected in a formal controlled environment than other classified information.	DHS sensitive compartmented information facility - accredited area, room, group of rooms, or installation where sensitive compartment information (SCI) may be stored, used, discussed, and/ or electronically processed.	DHS sensitive compartmented information facility escort - sensitive compartmented information cleared security officer or person authorized by the Special Security Officer to perform escort duties within a sensitive compartmented information facility (SCIF).	DHS sensitive compartmented information facility life cycle - process of continuous monitoring and evaluation, periodic re-evaluations, and documentation review to ensure the sensitive compartmented information facility (SCIF) is maintained in an accredited state.	DHS

Sensitive Compartmented Information Operational Network - Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) enterprise network for processing, transmitting, and storing information at the Top Secret/ SCI level.	DHS sensitive initiative - highly visible or sensitive system, such as Presidential Priority initiatives, for which DHS is the managing partner; collaborative technology; changes to the DHS security architecture; web-enabled services that extend beyond a single Component, etc., that may be raised to a higher investment level.	DHS sensitive location [immigration] - locations specified in INA, where if an enforcement action leading to a removal proceeding was taken against an alien at any of the locations specified in the Notice to Appear (NTA) includes a statement that the provisions have been complied with. specified locations include: domestic violence shelter, rape crisis center, supervised visitation center, family justice center, a victim services, or victim services provider, or a community-based organization.	DHS sensitive personally identifiable information - personally identifiable information which, if lost, compromised, or disclosed without authorization could result in substantial harm, embarrassment, inconvenience, or unfairness to an individual some types of personally identifiable information, such as social security number (SSNs), alien registration number, and biometric identifiers, are always sensitive.	DHS sensitivity [position] - position assessment designation indicating the degree of damage an individual in the position could effect to the national security.	DHS sensitivity analysis - process to determine how outputs of a methodology differ in response to variation of the inputs or conditions.	DHS sensor classification - categories for various types of sensors includes: a) Passive: Sensors that detect some type of energy that is emitted by the target of interest or the change of a natural field caused by the target; b) Active: Sensors that transmit some type of energy and detect a change in the received energy created by the presence of motion of the target; c) Covert: Sensors that are hidden from view. (e.g. buried sensors); d) Visible: Sensors that are in plain view of an intruder; e) Line-of-sight: Sensors that perform acceptably only when installed on flat ground with a clear line-of-sight in the detection space; f) Terrain Following: Sensors that detect equally well on flat or irregular terrain with uniform detection throughout the detection zone; g) Volumetric: Sensors that detect intrusion in a volume of space. The detection zone	DHS of these types of sensors is usually difficult to identify; h) Line Detection: Sensors that detect along a line. The detection zone of these types of sensors is usually easy to identify; and i) Application: Sensors that are grouped by application in a physical detection space.

sensor defeat - methods and technologies incorporated into the device construction and employment for the purpose of defeating detection or identification methods and friendly TTPs.	DHS service - the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice.	DHS
service obligation - a requirement applicable to, or the exercise of authority granted to, an electric utility under Federal, State, or local law or under long-term contracts to provide electric service to end-users or to a distribution utility.	DOI
short-term detention - detention in a U.S. Customs and Border Protection processing center for 72 hours or less, before repatriation to a country of nationality or last habitual residence.	DHS significant cyber incident - A cyber incident that is (or group of related cyber incidents that together are) likely to result in demonstrable harm to the national security interests, foreign relations, or economy of the United States or to the public confidence, civil liberties, or public health and safety of the American people.	White House significant cyber incident - incident related to computer security whose impact on a mission or on a critical asset constitutes a meaningful threat to the mission and requires immediate notification of leadership meets one or more of the following criteria: 1. The incident has impacts on the confidentiality, integrity, or availability of a critical system or sensitive data. 2. There is a high probability of public disclosure of the incident and consequent embarrassment. 3. The impact of the incident results in users losing access to a critical service (for example, email, network access, Internet access).	DHS significant environmental event - noteworthy environmental occurrence (positive or negative) that may be of interest to or require a “timely and appropriate” response from the affected facility or Component.	DHS site exploitation — A series of activities to recognize, collect, process, preserve, and analyze information, personnel, and/ or materiel found during the conduct of operations. Also called SE.	DOD site security manager – Construction - person that is a U.S. citizen cleared at the Top Secret level approved for sensitive compartmented information (SCI), responsible where a sensitive compartmented information facility (SCIF) is under construction.	DHS situational telework - telework that occurs on an occasional, non-routine basis includes, but is not limited to, telework that occurs on a temporary basis while an employee is recovering from an injury or illness; as a result of special work assignments; or when the official worksite is closed due to COOP/ pandemic health crisis or other emergency situations.	DHS small covered chemical facility - a covered chemical facility that— (1) has fewer than 100 employees employed at the covered chemical facility; and (2) is owned and operated by a small business concern.	DHS small hydroelectric power project - any hydroelectric power project which is located at the site of any existing dam, which uses the water power potential of such dam, and which has not more than 30,000 kilowatts of installed capacity.	DOI social amplification of risk - distortion of the seriousness of a risk caused by public concern about the risk and/ or about an activity contributing to the risk.	DHS

fish and wildlife management and administration, available science and resources, and adherence to the requirements of this Act and other applicable laws.
sovereign citizen extremist - group or person who facilitate or engage in acts of unlawful violence directed at public officials, financial institutions, and government facilities in support of their belief that the legitimacy of US citizenship should be rejected; almost all forms of established government, authority, and institutions are illegitimate; and that they are immune from federal, state, and local laws. stowaway - any alien who obtains transportation without the consent of the owner, charterer, master or person in command of any vessel or aircraft through concealment aboard such vessel or aircraft. A passenger who boards with a valid ticket is not to be considered a stowaway.	DHS span of control - The number of resources for which a supervisor is responsible, usually expressed as the ratio of supervisors to individuals. (Under the National Incident Management System, an appropriate span of control is between 1:3 and 1:7, with optimal being 1:5).	DHS/ FEMA special access program - program established for a specific class of classified information that imposes safeguarding and access requirements that exceed those normally required for information at the same classification level beyond those normally provided for access to Confidential, Secret, or Top Secret areas or materials is approved by the DHS Secretary or DHS Deputy Secretary; includes special clearances, investigative requirements, or special access lists of persons determined to require special access; requirements may include unique physical security and personnel security investigative requirements, material dissemination restrictions, and formal identification of personnel with need-to-know as specifically determined by the Director, SAPCO DHS SAP Central Office (DHS SAPCO).	DHS special access program agreement - written agreement among relevant special access program parties that specifies roles, responsibilities, terms, and conditions for each party to reach a common goal.	DHS special access program compartment - effort under a special access program approved by the Director, Special Access Program Control Office (SAPCO) and protected by a separate special access program security classification guide (SAP SCG) or guidance derived from an existing SAP SCG of its parent compartment or the umbrella.	DHS special access program disestablishment - actions taken when active enhanced security measures are no longer required for the information contained within the special access program.	DHS special access program nickname - combination of two separate unclassified words to designate an unclassified meaning employed only for unclassified administrative, moral, or public information purposes.	DHS special access program project - narrowly-focused, short-term effort under a special access program sub-compartment approved by the cognizant security authority, or designee that is protected by a specific security classification guide or based upon written guidance derived from an existing security classification guide of its parent compartment or sub-compartment.	DHS special access program sub-compartment - effort under a special access program compartment approved by the cognizant security authority and protected by a distinct and separate security classification guide or based up written guidance derived from an existing security classification guide of its parent compartment.	DHS special access program termination - action that results when all activity within a special access program, (including compartment(s), sub-compartment(s), and project(s)) ceases in its entirety or, if all activity does not cease but special access program enhanced security measures normally applied are no longer required.	DHS special access program transition - action that results in a change in protection level of the information protected by the special access program (but not the entire special access program umbrella (parent)),	DHS

Compartment(s) and/ or Sub-Compartment(s)actions include: 1) removing all special access program enhanced security controls from one or more compartments and/ or sub-compartments and terminating the compartments and/ or sub-compartments. All remaining compartments and/ or sub-compartments are retained unchanged, 2) removing special access program enhanced security controls from a specific and defined subset of the information protected by the special access program umbrella (parent), compartment and/ or subcompartment, but not the entire special access program umbrella (parent), compartment, or subcompartment, and 3) the transfer of information protected by a special access program to another special access program, compartment, or subcompartment and the transferring program special access program compartment or subcompartment is not being terminated.
special access program waiver - decision that permits non-compliance with a special access program security standard.	DHS

incitement of terrorism - Incitement with intent to cause bodily harm renders an alien inadmissible under INA if he or she has incited terrorist activity under circumstances indicating an intention to cause death or serious bodily harm. Incited in the context of INA is speech that induces or otherwise moves another person to undertake terrorist activity. Normally speech will not rise to the level of inciting unless there is a clear link between the speech and an actual effort to undertake the terrorist activity. It connotes speech that is not merely an expression of views but that directs or induces action, typically in a volatile situation. The applicant may have incited terrorist activity even if a terrorist attack does not actually occur (e.g., because an attempt to commit such activity was thwarted). An applicant who has incited terrorist activity must also have acted in circumstances indicating an intention to cause death or serious bodily harm to be inadmissible under INA. In other words, the aliens speech must not only have induced others to undertake terrorist activity, but it must also have been made with the specific intent that such activity would result in death or serious bodily injury. Incitement and the requisite intent to cause bodily harm could be inferred in the following situations - (a) Widespread opposition to Country A's policies and actions lead to a series of protests, some violent, outside Country As embassy in Country B. The applicant goes to the embassy, stands on a box, and shouts to the crowd to join him in standing up to Country A and humiliating it. Shortly afterwards, when he sees an embassy vehicle approaching, he yells - Don't let them in! Make them pay for	DOS/ USAID

what they have done! The crowd blocks the car and removes occupants (including a diplomat working at Country A's embassy), from the car, beating them severely and taking them hostage. Analysis - Diplomatic hostage-taking and violent attacks on diplomats are terrorist activities. Given the aliens urging the crowd to stop the embassy vehicle and make them pay, you would have reasonable ground to believe that the applicant's speech incited terrorist activity. The aliens make them pay, when viewed against the backdrop of previous violent protests and his general comments about standing up to Country A and humiliating it, would provide you with reasonable ground to believe that the applicant intended to cause death or serious bodily harm. (b) The applicant is an ardent nationalist whose opinions voiced to a particular audience regularly blame foreigners for his country's problems and who argues that the only solution to these problems is that foreigners should be driven out of the country. Press reports say that some of those in the targeted audience have been purchasing weapons and seeking to obtain and manufacture explosives. Police notify the applicant or those associated with the applicant that they are investigating several of those in the targeted audience for weapons-related offenses. At the end of a week of particularly strong anti-foreign sentiment, the applicant gives a special speech entitled A Call to Action. With the knowledge that those under investigation are in the audience, the applicant begins his speech with - The time has come for action! He then reiterates throughout his speech that The only solution to the country's problems is to purge our great land of these foreigners once and for all through whatever means necessary. Shortly thereafter, some of those in the target audience detonate a truck bomb outside a restaurant frequented by foreign nationals, killing several foreign nationals and injuring many restaurant employees. Analysis - The use of any explosive with intent to endanger, directly or indirectly, the safety of one or more individuals or to cause substantial damage to property is a terrorist activity. In the example, the applicant helps foster anti-foreign sentiments and then, during a particularly tense period, urges students to act to drive foreigners from the country through whatever means necessary. Under these circumstances, you would have reasonable ground to believe that the applicant's speech incited terrorist activity. The fact that the applicant knew that several students likely had access to weapons and/or explosives and that those students were in attendance at his special lecture would provide you with reasonable ground to believe that the applicant intended to cause death or serious bodily harm.

1. Supersession

a. This document is the inaugural edition of the USG Compendium. The terms and definitions will be updated according to standing operating procedure with modifications, deletions, or additions that have been approved in accordance with this document.

b. The following terms provide a baseline for usage in this glossary:

Term	Action	Source
Glossary	a list that provides definitions for the difficult or unusual words used in a book; specialized vocabulary with definitions but does not provide other information about the words.	Merriam-Webster; Dictionary.com
Lexicon/ Vocabulary	the vocabulary of a language; a stock of terms used in a particular profession, subject, or style; a vocabulary.	Merriam-Webster; The Free Dictionary
Nomenclature	a system or set of terms or symbols especially in a particular science, discipline, or art	Merriam-Webster
Ontology	a branch of metaphysics concerned with the nature and relations of being Ontology deals with abstract entities	Merriam-Webster
Taxonomy	the study of the general principles of scientific classification	Merriam-Webster
Taxonomy versus ontology	On the technical side, ontologies imply a broader scope of information. People often refer to a taxonomy as a ‘tree’, and extending that analogy I’d say that an Ontology is often more of a “forest”. An ontology might encompass a number of taxonomies, with each taxonomy organizing a subject in a particular way
Terminology	the technical or special terms used in a business, art, science, or special subject	Merriam-Webster
Thesaurus	a book of words or of information about a particular field or set of concepts; especially : a book of words and their synonyms	Merriam-Webster
Topic map	A standard for the representation and interchange of knowledge, with an emphasis on the findability of information. Similar to concept maps and mind maps in many respects, though only Topic Maps are ISO standards. Topic Maps are a form of semantic web technology similar to the Resource Description Framework	Merriam-Webster
